232-vote Wolf lead

BULLETIN
Based on informal statistics from committeemen of Alton Precincts 11, 24 and 26, the Wolf-Lucco totals respectively were 52-47, 65-55 and 179-53, indicating that instead of a 232-vote victory, Sam W. Wolf was elected to the Illinois House by a 313-vote margin.

Wolf said today he is confident he won, and believes the official canvass will show an even larger vote spread between third and fourth places in the four-candidate-for-three-seats competition.

State Rep. Steele led and Rep. McPike had the second highest total.

Winner by 48 votes over State Representative Joe E. Lucco in the 1978 Democratic primary election, former Rep. Sam W. Wolf of Granite City may have defeated him by another slim margin in Tuesday's general election.

With Alton Precincts 11, 24 and 26 sealed in official records and awaiting the canvass by a three-member board consisting of County Clerk Evelyn Bowles, Republican Eleanor Schulte and Democrat James Chapman, the tally shows Wolf leading by 232½ votes with 26,045 to 25,812½ for Lucco, who ran on an independent ticket.

Lucco said Wednesday he expects to lose and has no plans to contest the outcome, but no one at this point professes to know how he and Wolf fared in the three unreported precincts. In late-reporting Godfrey Precinct Nine yesterday, Wolf led 83-53½ to increase his lead from 203 to 232½.

Clear winners in Tuesday's Illinois House balloting in the 56th Legislative District were two incumbents, Republican Everett Steele, 36,432, and Democrat Jim McPike, 29,608.

A resident of Glen Carbon, Steele formerly resided in Granite City. Like Wolf, he is a realtor but has been devoting full

New look to county Democratic victory

By BILL WINTER

Editor

Democrats swept Madison County elective offices Tuesday, so, what else is new?

But it was a far different Democratic party than in past years, when there were employee financial hags and massive contributions by candidates to committeemen and other campaign workers. This year, the heart of the ticket had independent leanings and yet garnered more or less "no strings attached" support from the regular party structure.

Among these rejecting political control of patronage hiring is Sheriff-elect Emil J. Toffant of Madison.

The retired Illinois State Police district commander won 33,129 to 22,182 over Republican Robert Biby, who challenged Toffant's age and ability to achieve reforms. The figures are from 219 of the county's 222 polling places; Alton Precincts 11, 24 and 26 were inadvertently sealed off from unofficial tallies, pending the post-election canvass.

Toffant has no ties to the administration of a fellow Madisonian, Sheriff John Mauras, who died a third term and was indicted by a federal grand jury this fall. Toffant has said he will try to revamp many of the procedures, and he also is likely to seek a number of changes in the staff.

In the Quad-Cities, he outpolled Biby 13,160 to 3,752. Associate Judge William E. "Bill" Johnson captured a circuit judge position in the Third Judicial Circuit by a margin of 31,562 to 22,356 for Attorney Gerald B. Cohn (R), who had been favored in Bar Association secret voting. Johnson pledged relatively strict "law and order" policies. His vote here was 11,559 to 4,278.

Democrats re-elected without opposition were Miss Evelyn Bowles, Madison County clerk, 45,720, and Regional Superintendent of Schools Harold E. "Gene" Briggs of Nameoki Township, 42,085. Their Quad-City area tallies were 14,706 and 14,125.

With County Treasurer George Musso retiring, Michael "Mick" Henkhaus captured the treasurer office without opposition, totaling 42,154 countywide and 13,694 of the Quad-Cities' 17,773 ballots.

Overall vote totals here Tuesday were 9,381 in Granite City's 37 precincts, 3,259 at the 11 Venice Township polling places, 3,139 at the 12 Nameoki Township precincts and 1,995 in Chouteau Township's seven voting places.

Although Madison County remains mainly Democratic—especially in spring primary elections—several statewide Republican candidates ran strongly here

Newsmakers Health services policy role for Venice nurse

Tuesday and Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott led Democrat Richard J. Troy in this county 30,925 to 23,528 based on the 219-of-222 count. Troy led locally, however, 9,124 to 6,783.

Gloria Defti Simms, R.N., a resident of Venice, is in the news because she has been elected to the board of directors of the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency (HSA) to fill the position of provider-health professional from Madison County. The election took place at the 1978 annual meeting of the HSA General Assembly.

Mrs. Simms is a nutrition-health coordinator for the Madison County Economic Opportunities Commission.

She is a member of the American Nurses Association, the Alumni of State Community College, and the Advisory Board of the Tri-City Service Center.

The 60-member voluntary board of directors is the governing body of the HSA, which is the official health planning and resources development agency for the Missouri counties of St. Louis, St. Charles, Jefferson and Franklin and the City of St. Louis, and the Illinois counties of Madison, Monroe, Clinton and St. Clair.

Mrs. Simms, of 633 Salveter St., Venice, is a registered nurse and is 45 years old. Her particular interests in health care involve preventive health care measures, nutrition, immunization programs and maternal and child care.

Salute to Higgins

As honorary chairman of the 1978 benefit ball, Roger A. Higgins will be guest of honor at the eighth annual dinner dance on Saturday, Nov. 18, at the new St. Mary's Parish Hall in Madison, a spokesman for the Granite City Society for Crippled Children has announced.

"The selection was made to show our deep and sincere appreciation for Mr. Higgins' consistent support of our program to aid crippled and handicapped children in our community," the spokesman commented.

A social hour will start at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 18, with dinner at 7 p.m. Higgins will preside during the evening, and later will lead off the dancing with Mrs. Higgins.

Assisting the chairman will be Society Vice-President W. W. "Skip" Christiansen, Ron Luebber and Ernest Hopkins. President is Mrs. Lily Chaboude.

Tickets are still available at $7.50 each at Michel's Jewelry and Gift Shop, State Radio and TV and Ernie's Service Station, or from any member, with Nov. 13 the deadline for reservations.

The honorary chairman is manager of the Nestle Co. Inc., here—the world's largest instant tea plant.

Higgins is a native of Sunbury, Ohio.

Senator Percy to 'stay in touch'

Pledging to "stay in closer touch" with voters and to push hard for development of a new international airport at Columbia-Waterloo, U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy celebrated his third-term victory with a flying tour of Illinois yesterday, thankful that he had prevailed after trailing in pre-election polls.

With 96 percent of the precincts counted, Republican Percy leads 1,669,661 to 1,419,896 over Democrat Alex Seith. He has promised to secure the remaining needed funding for the 19th Street overpass project in Granite City.

Second terms at Springfield were won by Governor James R. Thompson and Lieutenant Governor David C. O'Neal with a 1,822,286 to 1,234,661 victory (98 percent of the precincts) over Michael J. Bakalis.

New tragedy at West Pontoon crossing

Robert Wasser, 33, of 907 Rose, Collinsville, an A. O. Smith Corp. inspector, was injured fatally when his eastbound car and a southbound Norfolk & Western Railroad freight train collided on the West Pontoon Road crossing west of Nameoki Road at 11:05 p.m. Monday.

Two witnesses to the accident reported Mr. Wasser's car went around the lowered crossing gates and struck the right front of the engine.

Mr. Wasser was thrown from the side of his car, hit the train engine and was dragged about 75 feet south of the crossing. The car's motor was thrown about 75 feet west of the point of impact, witnesses reported.

Madison County Deputy Coroner William Sternberg pronounced Mr. Wasser dead at the scene at 11:10 p.m. and said he feels the driver was killed instantly, probably the result of massive head injuries.

Terry Aldrich of Decatur, engineer of the train, tried to stop the train as rapidly as possible, but about 40 freight cars had cleared the crossing before the train could be halted.

Mr. Wasser was a member of St. Stephens Catholic Church in Caseyville. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Lisa (Purlee) Wasser; three daughters, Tammy, Lori and Kimberly Wasser, all at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elston (Georgia) Wasser of Caseyville; four sisters, Mrs. Ray (Arlyn) Williams, Big Springs, Tex.; Mrs. Craig (June) Gillespie, Richardson, Tex.; Mrs. Don (Mary Ann) Fitzgerald, Fairview Heights, Ill.; and Miss Theresa Wasser of Caseyville; four brothers, Joseph, Stephen, Charles and Terry Wasser, all of

Meaningful activity by those who are dying

By TOOMYE WALTER

A truck bearing a burial vault moves slowly through the cemetery in the falling rain. As workers remove the tarpaulin from a freshly dug grave, the passerby wonders if the final days of the person soon to occupy that spot had been happy.

Or had those days been spent distressed with chronic pain, abandoned by the family, and without the security of a caring environment?

Charles Corr, professor of philosophical studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, feels that Americans tend to turn their backs on people with terminal illnesses.

"We hire professionals to take care of everything. Seventy or 80 percent of our people die in hospitals. Then the funeral home takes over. We detach ourselves from death and the dying," he said. The philosopher feels this is wrong.

Corr, who teaches an SIUE course on "Death and Dying," felt he would be a better instructor if he had some first-hand knowledge of the subject. In June, the family flew to England where Corr and his wife, Donna, spent the summer working in a hospice.

Corr worked as a nursing auxiliary — the equivalent to an aide in this country. His wife, a registered nurse with the Medical Personnel Pool in St. Louis, took on nursing duties.

A hospice is an institution specializing in the care of dying people. The life expectancy of patients arriving at St. Luke's Hospice in Sheffield, where the Corrs spent their summer, is 17 days. "Very few people who were there at the beginning of the summer were there to tell us goodbye," he said.

Corr said an English hospice is not a place to go and die, but rather a place that people go to maximize the quality of life they have remaining. The hospice concept makes the most of the present by relieving pain and other unpleasant symptoms that go along with the progression of disease. It provides meaningful activities for its patients during their short stay there.

One of the most memorable experiences for Corr was accompanying a terminal patient on a short visit to his home. Corr said sometimes the hospice allows a husband or wife to remain with a dying patient. When the social worker asked a patient's wife if she would like to go home and freshen up, her husband of 49 years asked if he could go, too.

There was no way the social worker could manage the two of them, so Corr went along to assist. "His wife made tea and brought out some fruitcake. For just a little while, the couple were able to be a host and hostess in their home again," he said.

The philosopher added that the pleasant excursion turned out to be the patient's last trip home. "He died five days later."

Corr said, "I think his wife will always remember that he didn't just go into St. Luke's and never come out again."

Nearly all hospices are outside the National Health System in Great Britain so that St. Luke's must raise a great deal of its own support funds. Funding comes by many routes — through the sale of handicrafted items at fairs; through "jumbles," a used clothing and white elephant venture much like the garage sales in this country; and through donations from people who have had loved ones at St. Luke's, Corr said.

Many items are made by the patients themselves as occupational therapy. Included are ceramic hot pads and candlesticks, wicker baskets, various toys, crocheted and knitted items, aprons and lamps.

"There are many things that dying people can do. It fills up their days with meaningful activity," Corr said.

In addition to providing a source of funding for the hospice and an occupational therapy, making things provides patients with gifts to exchange with their families and friends. He pointed out that patients always are on the receiving end, and they become uncomfortable when they have nothing to give in return.

Corr said the reason dying people have so much trouble in this society is that people see them as losers. The central problem for them is the loneliness that comes with being abandoned, he said.

"Some people look at death as failure. They want to stay away from it. Nobody wants to be associated with a loser," Corr said.

"It is never true that there is nothing more we can do for the dying. There is always something more to be done for someone as long as the person is alive."

"We can share our doubts, fears and frustrations with them, but most of all, we can share our presence," the editor said.

While working at the hospice, Corr saw people not far from their own deaths spending much of their time helping attend to others around them.

When the situation reversed, Corr noticed that others stepped in to provide the necessary support.

The summer at St. Luke's has made him a better teacher, Corr believes. The experience also improved his attitude toward serving the community, in addition to providing him with tremendous data for his research, "Dying People and Our Responsibility Toward Them."

"We were touched in so many ways," Corr concluded.

time to his legislative duties. McPike lives in Alton and Lucco in Edwardsville.

Rep. Steele was the lone Republican on the state representative ballot and stifled the value of continuing two-party ties between the local area and the Springfield legislative deliberations. He also cited services provided, laws enacted and close cooperation between himself and Republican Governor James R. Thompson.

Rep. Lucco lost out to Rep. McPike and Wolf in the March primary election but decided to form a separate party to try again this week. The former school administrator no longer had the handicap of a fellow Edwardsville resident on the ballot, but his new party's John C. Boushard and Herman O. Edwards unavoidably drained away some general election votes although they urged the public to back only Lucco.

In the Madison County and St. Clair County portions of the 56th District, Steele received 36,941 and 1,491, McPike 27,354 and 2,201, Wolf 23,888 and 2,147 and Lucco 22,347 and 3,465.

A breakdown of the local Illinois House balloting follows:

Granite City, Nameoki Township, Venice Township (Madison-Venice), Chouteau Township and the four-township totals—

Steele 8,448-2,345½-856½-1,135-12,185.
McPike 6,644-2,438½-2,006-1,824½-12,913.
Wolf 8,914½-2,895-3,027-1,754½-16,391.
Lucco 3,335-1,245½-2,607½-1,002-8,210.

Obituaries Thompson win sets a record

CLINE, MRS. MARGARET C., 2917 Indiana Ave. Entered into rest 8:05 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 8, 1978, at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The best previous re-election margin for an incumbent Illinois governor was 58,187 in 1936, but Governor James R. "Big Jim" Thompson won big Tuesday, leading by more than 597,000 votes with 96 percent of the 11,661 precincts counted.

Acknowledging that the presidency is the "best job in America" while the Illinois executive mansion is only "second best," the governor said Wednesday he wants to concentrate on state issues, including tax reform and reorganization leading to elimination of waste.

Pressed to answer whether he will consider seeking the 1980 Republican presidential nomination, Thompson responded, "Ask me next year."

Republicans gained six governorships Tuesday and still trail 32-18, compared to the previous 37-12 independent. With an 11-3 edge in holdover governors, Democrats won 21 posts this week and Republicans captured 15.

County voters favor 2 proposals, reject 1

Ask an obvious question and you'll get an obvious answer, authors of the "Thompson proposition" found in Tuesday's statewide balloting.

The issue of whether there should be some form of future spending-taxing ceilings on state and local governments led 1,244,210 to 281,170 with 81 percent of the votes tallied.

Madison County voters like the proposal by almost as great a margin, 31,108 "yes" votes to 10,044 "no."

This county's voters favored extension of the personal property tax on corporations by a vote of 16,073 to 15,353 but it is not yet clear precisely how the uncontroversial but complicated proposal fared statewide.

Should Congressionally-chartered veterans' post homes be exempted from property taxes? Madison County voters disagreed, casting 12,752 affirmative and 14,585 negative votes Tuesday. Whether the binding state constitutional amendment was adopted remains to be determined.

On the latter two questions, "ballot 9" proposals, they needed either a majority of those voting in the general election or a three-fifths favorable margin among those voting on each amendment.

Parts of 3 additional precincts in Dist. 26

Confusion over the effect of recent Granite City annexations into Nameoki Township has resulted in some errors in tabulating the results of balloting for the District 26 seat on the Madison County Board.

Totals shown on Page 10 of today's edition do not include the votes in small portions of Granite City precincts 28, 32 and 37, which have been annexed into Granite City since the last county redistricting, but remain in District 26. The county district boundaries change only every tenth year.

While most voters in those districts cast their votes for Nelson Hagnauer, incumbent District 26 board member, a small number in those precincts were eligible to vote in District 26 instead.

Figures from those small areas were unavailable today, but election officials indicated the numbers of votes cast in those areas were large enough to change the outcome of the election, in which Democrat Louis Whitsell was re-elected.

3 Republicans elected to the county board

Republicans Herschel Beane, incumbent James Heil and Jack Griffin won in Madison County Board Districts 5-6-13 on Tuesday.

Democratic winners outside the Quad-City area included William Haine (Dist. 8), Harold Roberts (10), Donald Drieth (11), incumbent Anthony Bosich (12), and incumbent Fred Dalton (28).

Foster Township voted 498-315 to ban sales of alcoholic beverages.

GC school district to acquire land in Pontoon

Looking toward the future, the Granite City Board of Education took action during a meeting Tuesday night to secure a parcel of land in Pontoon Beach, in case another school should have to be constructed in the future, and to hire an architect to aid in planning for future repairs and facilities in the district.

"It should be stressed there are no plans at this time to construct another school, but with the prices of land spiraling it is the opinion of the board that an option should be taken on land at this time, with the understanding that if the option is exercised, this will be a long-term purchase of a site for a new school," Eugene L. Aleski, public relations director for the district, noted.

"It should be understood that no plans are being considered for construction of a building at this time, or in the near future," he added.

The exact size of the parcel has not been revealed until the option is signed by both parties, but it was disclosed the land is at Highway 111 and Kaseberg Lane and is owned by Richard Buenger.

In an unrelated action, the board agreed to sign a contract with Granite City architect Henry Gabriel, establishing rates for future architectural work, including designing a new automotive shop, a horticulture building and a gymnasium and auditorium building; all at Granite City High School North, a cafeteria addition at Mitchell Elementary School and new classrooms at Logan Elementary School.

It also establishes rates for plans to remodel the second floor of the GCHS South cafeteria building into a library and to air-condition the entire building; to remodel an entire wing at GCHS South for a new home economics facility and science laboratory; to remodel the restrooms at Nameoki, Marshall, Webster, Emerson and Washington schools and South; to remodel the locker and shower rooms at Coolidge and Prairie Junior High Schools; to remodel the office at South; and to study if an addition to Logan School will enable the cafeteria to be enlarged.

Maintenance improvements Gabriel is to design would include replacing the heating system in 11 schools; improving the roofs of the North gymnasium and the South main classroom; providing stationary fire extinguishers in most schools, and repairing the steam line between the South boiler room and cafeteria.

During the design work, Gabriel is to determine actual costs of each of the projects so the board can consider whether all the work can be lumped together into one major improvement program and can ask the voters to finance the program through a bond issue referendum.

A maximum cost for the initial architectural work of $9,000 was set by the board and agreed upon by Gabriel. If contracts for the work are awarded, Gabriel also will receive from six to nine percent of the construction contract price, depending on the type of Elementary School involved.

News-makers

She feels that 12 years of involvement in area hospitals, physicians' offices and community service agencies has given her an opportunity to interest the people from all walks of life, thus giving her a wide range of knowledge of the health needs of people in her service area.

She would like to become an active participant in the HSA's planning and implementation efforts regarding education, prevention and an educational process as it relates to the health problems in this area and region.

A consumer-major purchaser elected to the HSA board is Eugene D. Hudson, 3532 Michigan Ave., Granite City.

Hudson, an incumbent board member re-elected to a new term, is manager of employee benefits at Granite City Steel.

He is 52 years old, and has a bachelor of science degree in accounting and business administration.

In addition to his involvement with the HSA board of directors, he belongs to the Illinois Manufacturers Association.

Hudson is interested in helping control health care costs, and believes he has knowledge of health services being provided, as well as those needed for the Madison County area.

A provider-health professional school representative elected to the HSA board is Patricia Forn, St. Louis, who is the dean of the School of Nursing at SIUE and is 46 years old. She has B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees.

Her major organizational affiliations are with the American Nurses Association, National League for Nursing, American Association of Colleges of Nursing and Midland Alliance in Nursing.

Dr. Forn's particular interest in health care involves nursing, planning and epidemiology.

She is an incumbent member of the board and feels that three years' membership on the board, two years' experience in health planning with the Illinois Regional Medical Program, and more than 10 years in nursing education—planning, programming, etc.—are helpful to her in her work and her service to the HSA.

A registered nurse, she helps represent Madison County on the HSA.

Dean Forn serves on the HSA Plan Development Committee, Acute Care Review Task Force, and Pediatrics Technical Advisory Group, in addition to the board of directors.

GC council to meet tonight

For the first time in at least ten years, the Granite City Council was forced Tuesday night to postpone a regular council meeting because of the lack of a quorum.

Seven aldermen who appeared for the regular meeting waited until nearly 8:30 p.m., a half hour past the regular meeting time, for at least one more council member to appear. None did.

A minimum of eight aldermen is needed to constitute a quorum. There are 14 aldermen and Mayor Paul Schuler on the council.

Since there were not enough aldermen to convene the meeting, it was necessary to call a special meeting to handle the business on Tuesday night's agenda. Such a meeting must be called upon the request of at least three aldermen.

City Clerk Robert Stevens announced at 8:30 p.m. that the regular meeting was canceled and that Alderman Warren Decatur, Ronald Coleman and Gerald Parnley had petitioned for a special meeting which is to be held today at 8 p.m.

A delegation of residents living in the area of Lockhaven Drive was present in the council chambers and its members were reported prepared to object to work on the new Archer Daniels Midland sanitary sewer line which is being built to solve the problem of sewer backups in homes along the line between the ADM plant and the Lockhaven pumping station.

The group is expected to reappear at tonight's session to voice objections to construction of the line down Lockhaven in front of their homes instead of on easements in the rear, which will require ditching in some driveways to connect the homes with the new line.

The lack of a quorum Tuesday night apparently resulted from the fact that some of the aldermen are precinct committeemen and were involved in election activities.

Those who appeared for the regular meeting were Alderman Decatur, Parnley, Coleman, Fred "Pat" Schunjan, Roy Poulos, Sam Whitmer and Everett Morien.

Absent were Alderman Charles Douglas, Clyde Boyd, Glen Sprinkle, Lloyd Bailey, Margaret Nann, Earl Baker and Paul R. Bowler. Mayor Schuler also was absent. He was reported out of the city.

Three Thanksgiving services

A variety of musical selections will highlight the three community Thanksgiving services planned this year by the Quad-Cities Ministerial Alliance.

The initial observance will be held at Trinity United Methodist Church, 25th and Henry streets, on Sunday evening, Nov. 19, at 7 o'clock.

The Grace Baptist Church choir, the Young People's Singing Company of the Salvation Army, and the Sanctuary Choir of the First United Presbyterian Church will add a musical dimension to the celebration.

The Rev. Paul Bryant, pastor of the host church, will lead the worship service.

The Namodel Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, will host an 8 p.m. service on Sunday, Nov. 19, according to the minister, the Rev. Don F. Pierson.

The Rev. Marvin Pierson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will deliver the Thanksgiving meditation and the musical segment will be presented by the St. Elizabeth Catholic Gutter group, the choir of Central Free Methodist Church and the Chancel Choir of the host church.

A third community service will be held in the Madison United Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 22. The message will be brought by the Rev. John Ratcliff of the Voice United Methodist Church.

The combined choirs of the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches and the Golden Age Bell Ringers will provide special music.

The public is invited to share in these Thanksgiving celebrations, it was announced by the Rev. Peters, president of the Quad-Cities Ministerial Alliance, with membership composed of ministers of area churches.

Caseville; and his grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Murdoch of Shambaugh, Ill.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. today, Nov. 9, at St. Stephens Catholic Church, Caseville. Burial was in the Caseville Cemetery.

The West Pontoon Road crossing has been the subject of conflict between the city, the railroads and the Illinois Commerce Commission for the past four years.

Following the deaths of two motorists who drove around lowered crossing gates, the ICC ruled in 1975 that crossing signals at West Pontoon Road were timed improperly so as to cause long waits by motorists, causing them to go around the lowered gates and thus create a hazard.

The ICC ordered the railroads to modify the signals and at the same time ordered Granite City to reconstruct the west approach of the roadway.

The city appealed the order concerning reconstruction. The railroads later revised its signal system. Motorists contended that the trains still were not operated under proper timing and that it still took a long time for a train to approach the crossing after the signals were activated.

The Illinois Central Gulf, one of the three railroads using the crossing, is now preparing to repair and replace its tracks at that crossing. City engineering officials are attempting to arrange for the other railroads Norfolk & Western and Penn Central, to make track repairs at the same time.

Debate diploma test, mobile home taxation

Should Illinois high school athletic teams take part in national championship playoffs? Should the state of Illinois help school districts pay the cost of desegregating schools?

Should property taxes be levied on mobile homes the same as on other kinds of homes? Should the state or federal government require students to pass a special test before receiving a high school diploma?

These questions and a dozen others like them will be voted on by Illinois school boards on Saturday, Nov. 18. The outcome of the vote will determine the stance of the Illinois Association of School Boards (IASB).

George B. Moore Sr. of Granite City will moderate a panel on "Zero-Based Budgeting in Education." Secretaries of his school board are IASB Southwestern Division second vice-chairman. "Our association does not make the law," says Moore, Executive Director Harold P. Seamon, "but how school boards in Illinois feel on an issue can have a strong impact on the laws written by the General Assembly."

IASB is a voluntary organization of school boards created to provide board member training and to help boards solve problems. Its positions are voted on in the form of resolutions submitted by individual school boards. Each of 832 member boards casts one vote on each resolution. For example, a resolution opposing nation-wide sports competition among public schools was submitted by the Peoria Board of Education. The resolution views such competition as commercial exploitation of students.

A resolution urging the state to help schools pay costs of desegregation maintains that racial balance is required by the educational conference, co-sponsored by the Illinois Association of School Administrators and Illinois Association of School Business Officials, also will include an exhibition of commercial products and services, workshops on bargaining and policy development, and opportunities for board members and administrators to get help from experts in such fields as business, public relations, school law, testing, energy and finance.

We expect the conference to attract about 3,500 school board members and administrators."

Seamon said. "And we can almost guarantee that everyone of them will learn something new to benefit students and taxpayers back home."

LOCAL PROGRAM TO BE TOPIC OF HOMEMAKERS

Pontoon Lions Club inducts 6 members

The Lions Club of Pontoon Beach added six new members to its roster during the Lions International 1978 October Anniversary Membership Development Program, it was announced by Club Secretary David Schermer.

The new members are: Joseph Miller III, 2921 Maryville Road, sponsored by Lion Rich McIntosh; John Young, 4140 Division, sponsored by Lion Jerry Henderson; Mike Przygoda, 2400 Sheridan, sponsored by Lion Schermer; Chris Leonard, 2509 Angela, sponsored by Lion President Larry McKee; Harold Stoker, 3801 Lake Drive, sponsored by Lion Donald Patrick; and Steve Bojkovsky, 1028 Iowa St., Madison.

Lions International observes October as its annual membership drive month. All Lions sponsoring one or more members are entitled to a special award. Lions Clubs which add five or more new members during October receive special awards for their club president, secretary and membership chairman.

The Pontoon Beach Lions President McKee, Secretary Schermer and Membership Chairman McIntosh will receive their special awards from Lions International for adding six new members during October.

The six newly-accepted Lions officially were inducted into Lionism at the club's regular dinner meeting held last week at the Lions Den in Pontoon Beach.

The ceremonies were conducted by Deputy District Governor Clay Breihan of the Edwardsville Lions Club. Schermer also announced that the club approved expenses of $1,250 for eye surgery for a local 10-year-old Pontoon Beach boy whose family could not afford the operation.

Schermer also said that the club voted to contribute $1,500 to the Illinois Lions Foundation for the Blind and Deaf, which was collected from their recent Candy Days campaign.

Also from the Candy Days collection, the Lions will place $350 into their local Sight and Deaf conservation account which is used to supply local needy and underprivileged families with optical and hearing needs.

From its general account, the club members voted to donate $25 to the American Lung Association, $25 to the Granite City Crippled Children's Society, and $25 to the Granite City High School North Band Boosters for summer band uniforms.

See future end of grain barge delays

Illinois Director of Agriculture John R. Block has praised the Illinois Congressional delegation for its part in getting federal authorization for the building of a new Lock and Dam 26 at Alton on the Mississippi River.

While noting the contributions of all, Block singled out Senators Charles Percy and Adlai Stevenson and Representative Paul Findley, in whose district the new facility will be built. President Carter has signed the bill which authorizes the construction.

Block said the new 1,200-foot complex, to be built two miles downstream from the present site, "will open up one of the biggest bottlenecks in Midwest agricultural transportation."

"We have been a long time coming to this point," Block said. "It has been no easy task to resolve the different opinions as to where the new lock and dam should be built, what the size should be, and how it should be financed. In the end, it now appears we will have an excellent new facility which will benefit all of the Midwest and ultimately the entire country."

Block and the Illinois Department of Agriculture have long championed the cause of building a new lock and dam complex.

"For years, the Alton facility has been a headache for barge and traffic carrying Midwest grain down the Mississippi," Block said.

"There have been delays of 10 days and more which have backed up movement of grain to the point where it was piled on the ground at elevators. And on-farm storage was bursting at the seams."

"Now we can say the end of that is in sight, and turn our attention to the many problems still to be faced in agricultural transportation."

Re-elect 5 area incumbents to board; Sparks defeated

Louis Whitsell, incumbent County Board member of District 26 (Nameoki Township) was re-elected Tuesday in a close three-way fight for the board post, while Walter "Dick" Sparks, incumbent of District 16 in Chouteau Township, lost his post to Morris W. Miles who also defeated Sparks in the primary election last March.

Campaigns in those two districts highlighted the County

Board race in the Quad-City area where seven board members were elected in Tuesday's balloting. The voters re-elected five incumbents in the seven area districts. Two of the incumbent candidates had no opposition.

Whitsell, a Democrat, polled a total of 796 votes in the nine voting precincts that make up the district, while Robert Barton, a real estate broker and a Republican, tallied 729 votes.

Mrs. Helen Hawkins, the third candidate in the three-way race for the board membership, ran as an independent on the People for Helen Hawkins party. She polled 689 votes, according to unofficial returns.

Whitsell carried four of the nine precincts in District 26 while Barton carried three precincts and Mrs. Hawkins tallied majority votes in two precincts, including her own precinct, No. 5, where she polled 171 votes, the largest number cast for any of the three candidates in any of the nine precincts.

District 26 includes Nameoki Township precincts 1, 3, 5, 6, 9, 10, 11 and 12, and Collinsville Township precinct 10. Whitsell's vote, in that order, was 124, 68, 70, 65, 128, 102, 50 and 120.

In the same order, Barton tallied 41, 47, 110, 38, 61, 73, 126, 39 and 140. Mrs. Hawkins vote by precincts was 20, 171, 91, 33, 22, 53, 138, 75 and 86.

Miles rolled up majorities in six of the seven precincts in that district, defeating Sparks by a vote of 1,076 to 811 on the basis of unofficial returns.

The Chouteau district campaign was marked by factors involved in construction of the county sanitary sewers to serve the rural areas of Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau Townships. Sparks served as chairman of the County Board's sewer committee which guided the project through several years of planning and funding procedures.

The district is made up of Chouteau Township precincts 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, and Nameoki precinct 3. Miles' votes in those precincts, in the same order, were 149, 132, 194, 172, 168, 99 and 162. Sparks' vote in the same order was 183, 71, 137, 100, 113, 86, and 121.

William B. Webb, incumbent County Board member in Granite City District 19, Nelson Hagauer, incumbent in Granite City District 20, and Daniel Partney, incumbent in Granite City District 21, were re-elected. All are Democrats.

Hagauer, who also is chairman of the County Board, had no opposition.

Webb tallied a total vote of 1,005 to defeat his opponent, George Slattery, Republican, who received 882 votes. Voters of that district cast ballots in Granite City precincts 10, 21, 22, 23, 24, 30, 31, 33 and 34.

Webb's vote tally, in that order, was 152, 180, 191, 180, 172, 150, 247, 182, 182. The vote for Slattery, also in that order, was 19, 133, 121, 98, 140, 38, 111, 98 and 124.

Partney polled a total of 1,400 votes in District 21 to defeat Richard A. Mathenia who tallied 433 in the six precincts of that district. The district includes precincts 11, 13, 14, 17, 26 and 35.

Partney's vote in the same order was 307, 132, 248, 217, 248 and 248. Also in that order, Mathenia tallied 59, 36, 69, 102 and 77.

Hagauer, whose district is made up of precincts 18, 19, 20, 27, 28, 32, 36 and 37, polled a total of 1,864 votes, the largest number of votes cast for any one candidate in the board races in the Quad-Cities.

His vote was 223, 260, 188, 178, 342, 290, 143 and 230.

Roderick Bauder, incumbent Democratic board member whose District 28 includes both Granite City and Venice precincts, polled 1,496 votes. He had no opposition. The district includes Granite City precincts 9, 10 and 29, and Venice precincts 1, 2, 4, 5, 10 and 11. His vote, in that order, was 134, 262, 132, 199, 242, 176, 184, 54 and 173.

George A. Schmittling, unopposed Democratic candidate for board member of District 15, polled 1,201 votes. His district includes Wood River precincts 1, 2, 5, 6 and Chouteau precinct 3. The vote in that order was 318, 89, 242, 313 and 239.

New look

Enroute to re-election, Governor James R. Thompson (R) chalked up a solid 26,234 Madison County tally to Dr. Michael Bakalis' 28,565. The Democrat, who is the retiring state comptroller, led Gov. Thompson here 10,664-188.

Illinois' voting "superman," Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon (D) led in his statewide victory margin, aided by a smashing 45,905 to 11,071 win over Mrs. Sharon Sharp (R) in Madison County.

A factor in Secretary Dixon's success in this county was his overwhelming 14,322-1,882 triumph in the Quad-City area. Re-elected as U.S. senator Tuesday, Charles H. Percy (R) trailed Alex Seith (D) here, losing 30,812-28,443 in Madison County and 11,057-5,283 in the Quad-Cities.

Democrat Jerome Cosentino gained election as Illinois state treasurer with the help of a 32,553-19,907 county bargain and an 11,920-3,774 Quad-City advantage over James Skelton (R).

In the hotly-contested state comptroller race, the Roland W. Burris (D) vs. John W. Castle (R) tallies were 32-459-20,082 in this county and 11,138-3,931 in the local community.

Time to cover strawberries for winter

By CHRIS DOLL

Area Gardening Adviser Strawberry plantings in Southwestern Illinois should be covered or mulched over winter to prevent cold injury to the crown and roots.

This won't happen every year, but it's difficult to predict when it will happen. So mulching is a standard practice.

Mulching should be done after the plants go dormant but before the temperatures go much below 20 degrees F. This should be within the next week or two, with Thanksgiving being a good target date.

Wheat straw is probably the best winter mulch material. Other straws, hay or corn stover are satisfactory if they don't pack too densely on top of the plants and if they are free of weed seeds.

A settled mulch of two or three inches thick over the row is suggested. One to two bales of straw per 100 feet of row should give this depth of coverage for home plantings.

Large plantings require at least 100 to 150 bales per acre. In the years when cold injury to plants doesn't occur, mulches have the advantages of conserving moisture during the fruiting season, smothering weeds, preventing muddy berries and making for better picking conditions.

Growth and flowering will be delayed if mulch removal is delayed in the spring, and thus there may be less danger from frost.

Mulching protects annual winter weeds from cold injury as well as strawberry plants, so have your planting as weed-free as possible before covering. Use seedfree mulch to prevent further infestation.

Can't be forced to work without pay

(Illinois Department of Labor)

Q. — I work for a service station and, ever since I have worked there, the boss has required that I come in 15 minutes prior to the start of the workshift to check my cash and to check the daily inventory.

I am also required to remain after my workshift ends, again to check my cash and the daily inventory with the person who relieves me. It sometimes takes 30 minutes to balance my cash and inventory at the end of the workshift.

We are not paid for this extra time that we are required to work, and I feel that I am being cheated out of 30 to 45 minutes pay each day I work. Can my employer force me to come in 15 minutes early and stay sometimes as much as 30 to 45 minutes late without paying me for this time?

A. — No, under the Illinois Minimum Wage and Overtime Law, your boss cannot compel you to work without pay, and that is apparently what he is doing by requiring that you report 15 minutes prior to the start of your workshift and stay late to complete the checkout and inventory.

If you feel that your employer has been shorting you on your pay because of this, and you feel that you can prove it, contact the Labor Law Enforcement Division of the Illinois Department of Labor at 300 S. Michigan Ave. (18th Floor), Chicago 60605 or by calling (312) 793-2804, or at 100 N. First St., Springfield 62706 or by calling (217) 782-6206.

Q. — I own and operate a large ladies' apparel shop in a central Illinois community and am now preparing to open two similar stores in two other downstate communities. My problem is that I must now find employees to staff these two new stores.

In the past I have tried advertising but this generally attracts many persons who are not qualified for the work and it wastes my time and theirs to conduct interviews. Several years ago I went through the state Employment Service office, but now I do not find it listed anywhere.

A. — The name of the free employment service you used several years ago has been changed to Job Service and may be found listed under the Illinois Department of Labor.

Your local Job Service office will screen its lists of job seekers and will refer to you for interview only those who apparently have the qualifications you require. This service is free to both the potential employer and the job seeker.

Questions may be submitted to: Workwise, 100 N. First St. (5th Floor), Springfield 62706.

Engineering manager for bus system

The appointment of William V. Mathews as the Bi-State Development Agency's manager of Design and Engineering Services has been announced by Bi-State Executive Director Barry M. Locke.

Mathews will direct and supervise all design and engineering work related to the agency's major capital expansion and facilities maintenance programs, which are estimated at $76 million over the next five years. His prior position was with the Monsanto Co. as a senior civil-structural design engineer in the Corporate Engineering Department.

Mathews earned a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering from Ohio State University as well as a second undergraduate degree in industrial management from Franklin University of Columbus, Ohio, and a master's degree in business administration from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

SIUE will phase out its frosh-soph classes in East St. Louis

Steps to implement guidelines recommended by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) for the respective roles of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE) and State Community College (SCC) in East St. Louis were proposed Monday by Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw.

The president of SIUE spoke at a meeting of faculty and staff at the university's East St. Louis Center.

The IBHE's recommended guidelines were announced by Dr. James M. Furman, executive director of the IBHE, in a letter to the presidents of SIUE and SCC and the governing boards of each institution.

The SIUE Board of Trustees is expected to consider the proposals at its January or February meeting.

Prior to that time, the recommendations will be sent to the SIUE University Senate in accordance with the policy that deals with the termination of academic programs.

Dr. Shaw said the IBHE is mandating a shift of responsibility for lower-division baccalaureate activities from the university to the community college in East St. Louis, while SIUE is being encouraged to become a center of research and publication of findings in the area of remedial and developmental problems, in addition to providing third, fourth and fifth-year programs in the East St. Louis Center.

The president said the IBHE guidelines would permit SCC to mature as a comprehensive community college. At the same time, SIUE would be free to develop "capstone" and upper-division and graduate level courses that meet the distinctive needs of the East St. Louis community.

He explained that a capstone program consists of baccalaureate training beyond the first two years of general education, normally leading to a degree in a professional field. Dr. Shaw said he stands ready to cooperate with SCC in coordinating the expertise of each institution to best serve the residents of the community college district.

The SIUE president explained that the phasing out of the university's lower-division effort will be accomplished over a three-year span, at a rate of 100 students per year. By the end of the 1981-82 academic year, SIUE would no longer offer lower-division course work in East St. Louis. He said it is expected that these students will attend SCC, thereby increasing its enrollment.

General functions of SIUE's Experiment in Higher Education are to be absorbed by SCC, and those faculty members wishing to continue in that program will be afforded the opportunity to transfer to the community college.

Under IBHE guidelines, budgeted monies would follow any transfers made and, after 1981-82, if lower-division and remedial courses are taught in SIUE's Broadway facility in East St. Louis they would be offered under the auspices of SCC.

"All parties concerned appreciate the extent of the impact on existing staff," Dr. Shaw said. "We want to provide reasonable options for all who will be affected by this decision. It is expected that approximately 20 faculty and staff members will be affected."

Byrnes to quit as Venice comptroller

Venice City Comptroller Carl Byrnes submitted his resignation, effective Saturday, Nov. 11, and announced plans to retire after more than 26 years employment by the city, during the Venice Council meeting Tuesday night.

Byrnes agreed to remain as comptroller until May 1, 1979, at the request of the council and mayor.

"We are most appreciative of Carl's work for the city and by agreeing to stay on a little longer this will enable us to hire and train someone. Carl will be a hard man to replace," Mayor William Ebersold said.

Byrnes began working for Venice on May 24, 1952, as a desk clerk in the police department and part-time bookkeeper and worked his way up to comptroller.

At the request of McKinley Bridge Manager Thomas Fields the council authorized $5,000 to extend the bridges wide-load sale by several feet. Fields said this will save the sewers the trucks are running over and will make a much easier access for big trucks.

Funds will be taken from the bridge replacement and improvement account.

Fields reported that for the month of October 1978 318,155 vehicles crossed the bridges for a daily average of 10,263. This was an average daily increase over October of last year of 1,312 vehicles per day.

The council approved payment of $5,947 from motor fuel tax funds and $1,108 from the general fund to pay for street asphalt.

A permit for a $25,000 building to be located at 834 Garner St. (Kerr Island) was issued to Lewis Dandridge for the DED Company which manufactures wooden pallets.

A garage building permit in the amount of $5,000 was approved for Clifford Mathis, 507 Jefferson St., Venice.

A request for a repair shop to be located at 216 Hampton St. was tabled for further study, due to the area being residential.

The council approved the renewal of an agreement between the city and the Illinois Department of Transportation whereby the city removes snow on Broadway from the city hall over the viaduct to the Madison city limits. The city is reimbursed about $1,000 for the service.

The City Council approved the purchase of trophies for children participating in a Venice football program.

John Henry Williams said, "We are having a 5 p.m. dinner and program on Sunday, Nov. 19 at the Venice Recreation Center and I hope the council will attend. We also want to thank the council for helping us with this dinner. A lot of people have been donating food and items for the dinner and I am sure the children will enjoy it."

In other council action, 60 Thanksgivings dinners were authorized for the senior citizens and Isola Robinson's request to be reimbursed for gasoline used in a city rehabilitation program was approved.

Donaghy, Stone and Hahn in board lead

Incomplete state returns indicate that an incumbent member of the University of Illinois board gained re-election — Ralph C. Hahn of Springfield — and that the other winners were Democrats Paul Stone of Sullivan and Dr. Edmund Donaghy of Wilmette.

If they are confirmed by the canvass, the Democratic majority on the board will rise from 63 to 61.

East Alton Police Chief Fred Bright is to serve as director of administration under the Toffant administration.

The sheriff will serve as his own spokesman. He is to take the oath of office Dec. 1.

Price, Vadabalene win by nearly 3-1

Nobody had much doubt that Congressman Melvin Price would be re-elected in the 23rd Congressional District or that State Senator Sam M. Vadabalene would be returned to office in the 56th Legislative District.

But the exact victory margins of the two Democrats remained uncertain until returns were tallied Tuesday night.

Cong. Price of East St. Louis gained an 18th two-year term with 74,262 votes to 25,843 for Attorney * Daniel Stack, Republican, of Highland, a former Granite Cityan.

In St. Clair County, Price led by 45,463 to 14,370. He also prevailed decisively in the portion of Madison County in the 23rd District, leading Stack 28,799 to 11,473.

Sen. Vadabalene, Edwardsville, defeated Mrs. Gladys Lewis (R), Alton, 28,980 to 10,060, including 26,458-9,552 in Madison County and 2,525-498 in the Canteen Township area of St. Clair County.

The Price-Stack and Vadabalene-Levis tallies locally were 3,794-465 and 2,939-1,624 in Granite City, 2,313-716 and 2,465-432 in Nameoki Township, 2,538-293 and 2,464-185 in Venice Township (Venice and Madison), 1,560-383 and 1,553-287 in Chouteau Township and, for the combined four townships, 12,785 Price to 3,877 Stack and 13,377 Vadabalene to 2,528 Levis.

Woman tied, robbed in home invasion

A woman who lives in the 1900 block of Pontoon Road told police at 8:35 p.m. Wednesday that a man had forced his way into her home, tied her up and stole three purses and their contents.

The victim said someone knocked on her front door and when she answered it, she found a man in his late 20s or early 30s who used her first name. When she responded the name he mentioned was hers, he stated, "I want to talk to you," she related.

The victim, who sells cosmetics, said she thought the man was there to pick up a cosmetic order and was not concerned when the man opened the screen door, but he then sprayed something in her face, believed to be mace, police said.

He then pushed her back into a chair and stated, "Just do what I tell you and I won't hurt you," and he tied her hands together in front of her and then bound her hands to her ankles, she related.

When her money was kept. She refused to answer and the man tied a rag around her mouth, she told officers.

He then searched a bedroom, looking in drawers, and removed three purses, and possibly some jewelry, the victim related. The robber then left the house and the victim was able to free herself and call police.

She suffered burning of the face from the mace and some minor injuries from being tied up, police reported.

One of the stolen purses contained $43 cash, some cosmetics and some tickets to a Lincoln Place Mothers' Club function. Another purse contained more than 20 books of trading stamps and the third contained small miscellaneous items, police were told.

The robber was described as about 5 feet, 10 inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds and having reddish brown, collar-length hair, a beard and a mustache.

With a net gain of two in the Illinois Senate, Republicans improved from 34-25 to 32-27 remain in the minority.

Republicans gained a 13-11 advantage in the Illinois delegate to Congress, with Daniel J. Rostenkowski winning in the 22nd District to join his brother, Cong. Philip Crane of the 12th District, only announced 1980 Republican presidential candidate. A third brother, David, lost Tuesday to an Indiana congressman.

Cong. Paul Simon, who formerly represented the Quad-Cities in the state legislature, won re-election in the 24th District.

Evergreens—wind and winter 'control'

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Area Adviser, Horticulture
Dense plantings of tall evergreens do a nice job of changing a windy blast to a whispering rustle. That is the principle of windbreaks. Even small clusters of evergreen trees among other trees can produce the same effect.

Suburban residents find that winter beauty, shelter for birds, a decrease in snow drifting and filtering of dust are extra benefits.

A typical planting for a windbreak is several straight rows along the north and west side of the property. Where space is limited, plant small clusters of evergreens spaced 8-12 feet apart to produce an irregular clump. It's an ideal planting to soften the effect of power poles and nearby buildings. If you plant a small cluster of flowering trees near the cluster of evergreens it will provide more seasons of interest. Flowers in the spring, a combination of textures in the summer, berries and fall color in the fall and areas of deep green in the winter. If you are a bird lover, the evergreens will provide a winter shelter while a small bird feeder will provide the rest of the necessities.

Now is the time to start planning for next year. If you want to soften an unfriendly view, start designing your clump of evergreens. Blue Spruce and Cammer Junipers have beauty in a modest size. If you have one tree, consider whether a clump of 3's of the same kind would be more effective. Would one or two crabapples, dogwoods, or redbuds smuggled close to those evergreens provide the final touch?

Don't be in a hurry to get started. Concentrate on your plan. The effect you produce will last for a long time.

Old trails endangered

By BARB SLIVKA

"The hand of man is destroying the old trails at an alarming rate," according to Stanley B. Kimball, SIUE professor of historical studies. Referring to historic pioneer trails to the West, Kimball explained this week that they are disappearing rapidly due to "urban sprawl and development of reservoirs, oil fields, farms, ranches and superhighways."

"If the Department of Interior doesn't step in and preserve what's left, soon there won't be anything more to preserve. Every time I go, I find additional miles of it blocked off or destroyed."

"I discovered in October that a historic and beautiful section of the trail had been closed by radioactive wastes of a uranium mill" in Wyoming, he said. Kimball has returned here from his tenth trip over the Mormon Trail.

On the basis of a definitive study by Kimball, a bill is presently before President Carter to designate the Mormon Trail as a national trail, and the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation is requesting funds to develop the Mormon Trail recreationally, he said. "I want to see as much of our national and religious heritage preserved as possible," he added.

Kimball received a citation for his initial work from the Department of Interior. He feels it is "marvelous to be in the middle of" such work as a consultant.

During his more recent journey over the 1,400-mile trail, Kimball acted as guide and adviser for National Geographic writer Charles McCurry. The National Geographic Society plans to publish a book on western trails, devoting one chapter to the Mormon Trail.

Kimball also is working with a publishing firm on another text dealing specifically with the trail.

The Mormon migration started in 1846. The trail, in use from 1847 until 1869, began in Nauvoo, the largest city in Illinois at the time of Mormon settlement.

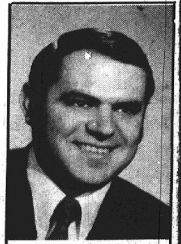

It took three and a half months to travel the first 325 miles to winter quarters, located near present-day Florence, Neb., Illinois, in firmly and inexperience slowed their rate of travel.

The following spring, Brigham Young led a hand-picked group of 149 pioneers on a 1,100-mile journey to the Great Salt Lake in Utah in 111 days; 60,000 Mormons eventually followed the trail to Salt Lake City, the new Mormon settlement. In 1869 "the Pullman pioneers" followed the original settlers via the transcontinental railroad," Kimball added.

A native of Utah, he has studied the history of the trail extensively. As a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, the Mormon Church, he has conducted several studies dealing with historic and geographic aspects of the trail. His works have been published in a number of magazines, newspapers and texts.

Improved prison security sought

Governor James R. Thompson is seeking $21.6 million more this fiscal year to attack problems in the state's penal system, including hiring of 330 more guards and improvement of prison security.

In the governor's request for additional 1978-79 fiscal year appropriations will be $1.5 million to be used on Correction Study Task Force recommendations, a report made public by the governor during the weekend. About $12.5 million of the $21.6 million in new funding requests will be from general revenue sources, the remainder will be Capital Development bond funds.

The additional appropriations are to underwrite security improvements at the Pontiac Correctional Center, repair or replacement of facilities and equipment damaged in the Pontiac riot, prosecution of the Pontiac murders, 320 new correctional officer positions throughout the state prison system, and accelerated filling of vacancies.

"The money I will ask the General Assembly to provide when it returns later this month will help battle our prison problems, including overcrowding, understaffing, and the lack of a logical inmate classification system to move inmates progressively and logically from maximum security to work-release," Thompson said.

"Additional funding is vital if we are to be able to maintain our penal institutions in normal operation, without the necessity for extended periods of lock-up," he said.

He noted that construction of two new prisons at Hillsboro and Centralia will add 1,500 beds to the prison system, but he stressed that the task force recommendations can lead to a better use of existing prison beds.

In addition to the new classification system, intended to help ease overcrowding in maximum security institutions by moving inmates to pre-release beds faster, task force recommendations include the following nine steps:

1. About 100 added pre-release program beds will be requested in fiscal 1979, with up to 500 more to be sought in Fiscal Year 1980 and thereafter.

2. A study is to be undertaken to find a way to eliminate about 300 misdemeanants from the state prison system, returning them to local-level jails in exchange of reimbursement to counties for the added financial burden would be among topics studied.

3. The Departments of Administrative Services and Corrections are to begin a more aggressive marketing program, process to find products that prison industries can make for state agencies to buy, with about $500,000 more to be requested in fiscal 1979-80 to help repair damaged equipment at Pontiac and help the prison industry there overcome its cash-flow problems stemming from the high amount of lock-up time this year.

4. A comprehensive re-evaluation will be undertaken by the Department of Personnel of the duties, responsibilities, working conditions and salaries of personnel at correctional institutions.

5. An analysis of the need for a prison hospital—possibly using the conversion of any underutilized Department of Mental Health Hospital as the structure; an assessment of inmate educational and vocational needs; and the possible special classification of inmates.

6. A system for transfer of troublemakers from Illinois prisons to the federal prison system will be formally entered into by Illinois corrections officials with federal officials.

7. Internal steps will be taken to improve personal contact between counselors and inmates, with added counselors to be requested in fiscal 1979-80. A full-time recreation director will be hired for the prison system, with the search for the person to begin immediately.

8. Better training of prison staff and special training for tactical and internal investigation units will be implemented immediately.

9. Security improvements will be made, including better communications systems, upgrading of equipment, elimination of "blind spots" in Pontiac guard towers, and repair or replacement of locking systems throughout the prisons.

The governor expressed thanks to members of the task force for "thoroughness and promptness in preparation of their report in time for submission of needed items to the fall session of the General Assembly." The Task Force was co-chaired by Lt. Gov. Dave O'Neal and Gayle Frazen, special assistant to Governor James R. Thompson. Other members included Michael J. Mahoney, executive director of the John Howard Association; Robert Bright, deputy director of the Illinois Department of Corrections; Mort Friedman, legal counsel to the Department of Law Enforcement; Raymond D. Curran, executive director of the SAFER Foundation; Dale

Marijuana arrest

Investigating reports that high school students have been selling marijuana to elementary school students before school in Wilson Park, Granite City police patrolled the park Tuesday and arrested a 16-year-old boy who had three marijuana cigarettes in his shirt pocket at 8:10 a.m.

Two youths with him also were searched and ordered to go to school. The 16-year-old was released to his mother on a notice to appear before juvenile authorities on a charge of possessing marijuana.

THEFT FROM GARAGE

Reading mastery foreseen

Reading failures are made, not born, according to Hugh Schoephoerster, a former director of Minnesota's Right-to-Read Program and keynote speaker for the 14th annual reading conference Nov. 18 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Schoephoerster blames "Johnny's" failure on teachers who focus on teaching instead of learning, parents who allow social promotion instead of demanding mastery, a school system that crowds too many subjects into each school day, and a society that believes money will buy solutions to problems.

Describing himself as an optimist, Schoephoerster is a reading consultant to state and local school districts in Minnesota and to a major textbook company. He will outline his plans to "program reading failure out of existence" at the 9 a.m. general session at the University Center.

The conference begins Saturday morning, Nov. 18, with registration from 8 to 9 a.m. in the University Center, where an exhibit of publishers' reading materials will also be on display. A special book exhibit hour is scheduled at 10:15 a.m.

Open to parents, students and educators, the conference is sponsored by the reading faculty of the SIUE School of Education. Conference chairmen are Dartha Pay Starr and Delbert Patten, Associate professors of elementary and early childhood education and codirectors of the Reading Center at SIUE.

At 11:15 a.m., the conference will move to the Peck Building for 13 small group sessions of special interest to primary, intermediate and junior-senior high school levels, and also featuring topics of general reading interest.

Led by local educators with expertise in each field, the subjects will range from tips on how parents can help the primary child improve reading skills, to the reading-writing approach, to teaching reading comprehension, or "turning on" the reluctant reader with adolescent literature.

One session will be a follow-up discussion with Schoephoerster. Since the university will be closed for the Thanksgiving holiday, a sidewalk cafe will be set up at the University Center to sell doughnuts, sandwiches, coffee and soda throughout the conference. No other lunch will be served.

Parking will be free in any university lot except the metered spaces. Registration fee for the conference is $3. Additional information and registration forms are available from Dartha Starr at 622-3556.

Participants in the group discussions from Granite City will be Jean Hall, Peggy Cunningham and Janice Miller.

Secretaries hear program on rape

Mrs. Joanne Belter of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Rape and Sexual Abuse Care Center, spoke to members of the South High School Future Secretaries Association Tuesday night. She stressed preventive measures against rape that may happen in the home, on the street, hitchhiking, while babysitting near a owners car or at public transportation stops.

Mrs. Belter also spoke on psychological preparedness if a person is a potential rape victim and she defined ways to defend yourself if attacked and if actually raped the most useful clues to give to the police. She added the SIUE Rape Center handled 166 rape cases this year.

The meeting was held at South High School and was attended by over 50 members, their mothers, FSA faculty advisor Jeanette Holder and National Secretary Association, Tri-Cities Chapter members Mrs. Charis Vunovic and Joyce Savich.

FSA President Dawn Cox presided at the meeting and reports were submitted by club officers.

Forthcoming projects of the club includes the sale of tee shirts and holiday stick pins it was announced.

'Walkout' boosted women's rights in Iceland, native speakers say

A review of the customs, eating habits, government and women's rights in Iceland was given last week to the International Women's Organization by two native Icelanders, Svava Bernhardsdottir and Lilja Hjaltdottir. Both are current students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Miss Bernhardsdottir's father, Bernard Gudmundsson, is in mass communications at SIU.

Women's Rights received a great boost from the "walk out" in November in Iceland when 90 percent of the women literally "walked out" of their homes in the morning, leaving their children with their husbands to care for, they related. Many men had to take their children with them to work (creating havoc at work) and others stayed at home from work to care for them. The women converged on Reykjavik, capital of Iceland, for the all-day meeting in conjunction with the United Nations' Women's Rights Day, the group was told.

The young women said that the day was a huge success and the Icelandic men were very happy when their wives returned home that evening. The women have been treated very, very nice by men since that day, she noted.

Svava and Lilja were dressed in clothing of Iceland with an emphasis on wool due to the many sheep raised in that country and also due to the extreme cold. Temperatures range from 60 degrees below zero to 40 above.

Even with these temps, each child is required to learn to swim four different ways in school because of Iceland being located in the middle of the ocean and the cities and villages surrounding the perimeter of the island.

Children swim in water heated from the natural geysers that are numerous and homes are heated with water. Most of the food is imported due to lack of warm weather to grow vegetables, the women related.

A film was shown depicting the many active volcanoes, summer in the land of the Midnight Sun, fishing villages and various types of homes built with sod and wood. Both young women presented several violin duets.

Prior to the program, Mansoreh Saboori, president, welcomed guests and each woman was introduced by the person on his left. Christmas decorations that can be hand crafted were shown by Deane Hale of St. Louis and Louise Williams of New Douglas, Ill. Mrs. Saboori gave the following names of ladies to contact should anyone desire information concerning the organization. Alton area — Dolores Wiegand, phone 402-0633; Granite City — Joyce Schrader, 931-0041, and Edwardsville — Reba Klenke, 656-0022.

It was announced that the next meeting will be held at the First Federal Savings and Loan Building in Edwardsville instead of at the campus building on Jan. 4 at 7:30 p.m.

A tea was held after the program with Icelandic cakes and doughnuts made by the speakers' mother, Mrs. Gudmundsson, of SIU Tower Lake Apartments.

South Guidance Department. The center will feature information on jobs, trade schools, colleges and universities.

South to open career center

The Guidance Department at Granite City High School South will begin operating a career center on Monday, Nov. 27.

Purpose of the career center is to provide accurate and up-to-date career information for students, according to Laverna Corbett, head of the Guidance Department.

The center is located in the Guidance Office and will operate much the same as the library. Students may use the career center during their hour or half-hour study periods.

The career center will provide an informal place where students may browse through college catalogs or search for information about various careers and jobs.

There are many free materials for students and some career materials may be checked out overnight, the department director said.

The center also will feature CVIS (computerized vocational information service), whereby a student may request computerized information about areas such as a career interest quiz, career descriptions, local manpower reports, job forecasts, junior colleges, four-year colleges, military occupations, and financial aid for education.

Each area provides an individualized printout as requested for student use. This service is free to students.

Another innovative service planned for career center use in the future is the Telexplorer, a telephone microphone and speaker system that will enable an entire class to sit in and actively participate in a telephone interview with a company or career representative.

Also taking place in the career center will be mini-career fairs and mini-education fairs (monthly programs about careers utilizing films and guest speakers) and visits by college representatives, trade school representatives, and Armed Forces personnel, the director noted.

The career center will be available on a reservation basis for teachers who wish to bring in their entire classes to work on projects.

Veterans' disability pay boost

The Veterans Administration this week alerted disabled veterans in Illinois to a provision of a new law that could mean an additional $75 a month in VA compensation payments to them.

The added payments are authorized by "The Veterans Disability Compensation and Survivors Benefits Act of 1978," which was signed on Oct. 18 by President Carter.

In general, veterans eligible for the additional payment are those who suffered the service-connected loss, or loss of use, of one extremity, and who have subsequently lost the paired extremity from non-service-connected causes.

The veteran must have been rated less than 100 percent disabled by VA for his service-connected injuries to be eligible for the newly added compensation for non-service-connected loss, Donald R. Ramsey, VA regional office director in Chicago, said.

Currently, the average monthly VA compensation payment for a veteran with service-connected loss of a leg, or its use, is $211.

The director said the VA is issuing a special appeal for assistance from national veterans' organizations in locating disabled veterans who may qualify for the new benefit.

"Our computers can identify veterans who have service-connected loss of extremities, but we have no way of knowing how many of them have subsequently lost a paired extremity from non-service-connected causes," he explained.

Ramsey urged any disabled veterans who believe they might be eligible for the additional payment to contact the nearest VA regional office, or a member of one of the veterans' organizations in the community.

Some complain of lack of privacy in punch system

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

Voting in the Quad-City area seemed to go smoothly Tuesday, despite use of punchcard voting machines for the first time, but there were complaints received by the Press-Record, the county clerk's office and election officials on the new way of casting ballots.

The primary objection voiced, admittedly by a small minority of the voters, was the lack of a curtain behind each voter as he cast his ballot.

However, observation by the Press-Record of voting in two precincts showed the close proximity of the walls of each voting cubicle to the shoulders of the voters made it impossible, in most cases, to determine even what page of the ballot was open at any given time.

One voter expressed the concern that it could easily be determined if a voter had voted a straight party, since he could be seen only making one punch. An election judge responded that it was easier with voting machines to determine if a voter turned only one lever, since anyone near the voting machine could hear each lever click as it was turned.

Besides, the judge pointed out, some voters cast their ballots only for one candidate, so determining that someone had punched only one hole would not necessarily mean that he had voted a straight ticket.

A spokesman for the county clerk's office noted use of the punchcard voting machines without a privacy curtain has been approved by the State Board of Elections, since a voter's shoulders effectively hide his actions in the cubicle.

Other voters objected to a ballot number being on the stubs they received as they were torn from the ballot after voting. Some questioned if the number also appeared on actual ballots.

A check by the Press-Record showed the ballot number appears only on the stub given to the voter after casting his ballot, and not on the ballot which was dropped by the election judge into the ballot box.

One man noted he received a ballot numbered in the high 600s when he voted at 7:30 a.m. at Precinct 37 in Granite City and asked if there had been some mistake, since all his friends who voted early had received numbers in the 30s, 40s or 50s.

The spokesman for the county clerk explained that the judges were supposed to begin with ballot number one and issue them in numerical order in each precinct, but some had erroneously started issuing ballots from ballot pads having higher numbers. She said even the ballots issued in error were counted, since there were no numbers on the portions actually placed in the ballot boxes and all were identical.

Another concern was that punching the ballot with the stylus may not always fully remove the piece of paper in the small box for each candidate, but numerous voters reported they had examined the punched ballot when completed and all said the machine appeared to have properly punched the ballot for each candidate.

Only one objection was received by the Press-Record of a problem with the poll books used by the judges to determine the eligibility of voters, as one woman said she had voted at Granite City Precinct 1 for many years and was not on the books.

Election judges contacted the county clerk's office, verified her eligibility and she was able to vote.

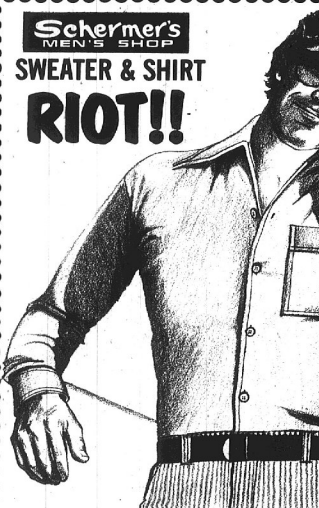

One woman who called the Press-Record office, and asked to remain anonymous, described the new voting method as "extremely unfair."

"I think that the failure to provide curtains for voters is an invasion of my privacy," she said, noting, "I am surprised Miss Bowles (County Clerk Evelyn Bowles) would consider such a system."

She said she particularly objected to the lack of provisions for writing in a candidate's name. "There were no pencils. If I had wanted to write in a candidate for a pencil, and that could give someone an idea as to how I was voting," she said.

"People were walking around when a person was punching a ballot. The system certainly isn't private enough."

CROSSWORDS

OLIVIA NEWTON-JOHN scoffs at reports that she and JOHN TRAVOLTA have been a serious item since co-starring in the movie "Grease." But gossip persists that they have more than just a casual friendship. And they may be reunited sooner than you think in another movie. Would you believe Olivia playing the real-life role of PRISCILLA PRESLEY to John's role of the late ELVIS PRESLEY? That's the hope. ROBERT STIGWOOD.

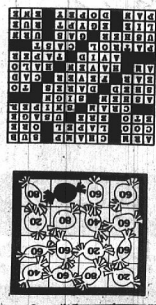

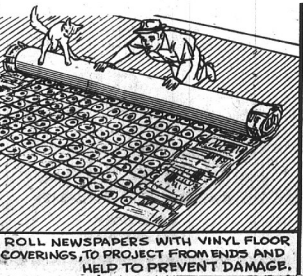

Former Hilton star, ELVIS PRESLEY, used to ask his pals and lady-friends to sign waivers agreeing they would never use the relationship with him for financial gain. You would certainly never know it because since his death, they have all made a bundle. Now PRISCILLA PRESLEY has agreed to end her silence on ex-husband ELVIS. She will be seen on a 90-minute TV special talking about him and showing home films.

More bodyguards than Jimmy has

— LAS VEGAS — Kidnapping and being robbed are what the stars are most talking about with the recent kidnapping attempt on JAMMY WYNNETTE and the death threat to SHAUN CASSIDY. MICK JAGGER, JACLYN SMITH, JOHN TRAVOLTA, HENRY WINKLER, PAUL ANKA, FARRAH FAWCETT-MAJORS, are only a few of the stars who live in fear and terror 24 hours a day. When JOAN RIVERS plays Las Vegas, she insists on a bodyguard for her little girl. FRANK SINATRA has more bodyguards than JIMMY CARTER. Many stars won't even discuss their children with the press because they foresee a danger in publicizing any such material. Celebrities have been forced to install sophisticated burglar devices and are surrounding themselves with huge guard dogs.

Q. So far I have made about $15,000 this year and my employer is still taking out Social Security Taxes. There must be some mistake. — S.C.R.

A. No mistake. This year you and your employer must pay on wages up to $17,700. Next year it will go up to $22,900. In 1980 you will have to pay on wages up to $25,000 and in 1981 it goes up to $29,700. After 1981 the amount on which Social Security taxes must be paid will be adjusted automatically as earnings levels rise.

No cycle for Cindy

HOLLYWOOD — The TV Mailbag: Q. How can CHP Officer Cindy Cahill doesn't ride a motorcycle like her male colleagues in "CHPs"? Also, how about some background on the actress who plays her? — D.C. Tampa, Florida.

A. CHP Officer Cahill will not be a motorcycle officer because women do not yet serve in this capacity with the California Highway Patrol. However, she will ride motorcycles in sequences showing her off duty. Statuesque Brienne Leary, formerly one of Pappy's Lambs in "Black Sheep Squadron," plays Officer Cahill. A prize-winning high school gymnast, the brunette actress also appeared in "Petrocelli," a short-lived series filmed in Tucson, Ariz., which Leary considers her hometown. Actually, she is a native of Providence, R.I. But graduated from Canyon Del Oro High School in Tucson and attended the city's Pima Junior College.

Q. Why was Robert Reed taken off "Operation Runaway"? — K.S.

A. Reed bailed out of the series because of a difference of opinion with the show's producers.

Q. We have had a bet going in our family over which new television series this season will be the first cancelled. Unfortunately, we somehow missed the announcement of the first cancellation and we can't find it in our local newspaper. Can you help? — H.R.

A. The first rating casualty of the 1979-80 season was NBC's "W.E.B." series about the inside operation of a major television network. Less than a week after it went under, ABC cancelled "Apple Pie." Both shows consistently placed at the bottom of the Nielsen Ratings.

Final results delayed, but punch voting 'worked well'

Punch-card voting, used for the first time in Madison County in Tuesday's election, proved to be "some good news and some bad news" as the ballots were tallied by computers in each of the 222 precincts in the county.

The good news was that the computers, with very few breakdowns or mechanical difficulties, quickly tallied the votes in each candidate in each precinct.

The bad news was that human error and an unexpected "log-jam" of election judges pouring into Edwardsville combined to delay the tabulation of the county-wide vote until nearly 2 a.m. Wednesday, hours later than in recent elections where voting machines were used.

Even then, officials were unable to complete a final tabulation for the county's 222 precincts when it was learned that precinct result forms had been sealed in the envelopes of official returns in three precincts, and had been left blank in two other precincts.

County Clerk Evelyn Bowles said results of these precincts will be included in the official canvass which got under way yesterday afternoon.

Missing precinct results were in Alton 11, Godfrey 9 and Helvetia 4, where the results were sealed in with the official documents, and precincts 24 and 26 of Alton in which the election judges failed to fill in the report form.

Thus, the tabulation by 2 a.m. Wednesday provided results for 217 of the county's 222 precincts.

The computerized counting of the punched ballots at each precinct brought many rapid returns, which caused another problem for election judges as a major traffic jam developed where the voting machines were to be dropped off.

A flurry of results then poured into the clerk's office and the election judges headed for the county's Civil Defense building, four blocks from the courthouse, to drop off the voting machines before going to the courthouse.

A traffic jam quickly developed with some election judges estimating the line of cars exceeded one mile in length about 11 p.m. After leaving the voting machines at the Civil Defense building, the judges reported to the courthouse to leave the ballot boxes and results at the county clerk's office.

The line of judges and the shopping carts they were using for the ballots stretched completely around the second-floor balcony of the courthouse much of the evening, creating additional delays for the judges of as much as two hours.

Although the computerized counting of the ballots at high speed offered the potential for a rapid determination of winners in the county, human errors delayed final county tabulations.

A major problem was that some judges disregarded instructions to telephone results to the county clerk's office before leaving the polling places.

Some judges said they attempted to call several times, but all five telephone lines were busy, so they decided to go to Edwardsville and report the results directly.

The traffic tie-up at the Civil Defense building and the long line of judges at the courthouse then combined to delay public announcement of results from those precincts several hours.

Despite the problems, Miss Bowles obviously exhausted after completion of her joint tasks as candidate and as the person in charge of conducting the election — said she felt punch-card voting will work well in the future.

"Obviously, we need some changes, particularly in where to put the punch-card voting machines. I will present the County Board a new plan for the 1980 election, which should alleviate this problem," Miss Bowles said. She noted there were a few areas where the computers which were to count the ballots broke or did not work properly, but said that presented only minor problems which were resolved easily by bringing in new computers.

"All in all, in most precincts, I think the punch-card voting worked exceptionally well," the clerk concluded.

Lawsuit is refiled against Whitsell

Nameoki Township has refiled a lawsuit against former township supervisor Louis Whitsell attempting to recover $9,597 in wages and fringe benefits paid to Whitsell's wife.

APA BOOK FAIR-SCHEDULED SATURDAY

A white elephant sale and book fair, sponsored by The Association for the Protection of Animals will be held Saturday, Nov. 11, at the VFW Hall. Co-presidents of the club, Marsha Shea and Connie Becerra announce the fund raising project will also include the sale of Christmas cards inscribed with pictures of various animals.

Deil, as a general assistance caseworker between July 1, 1976 and April 1, 1976.

The suit contends the Illinois Department of Public Aid had not authorized the hiring of Whitsell's wife with state public funds and has received reimbursement from the town fund for money paid to Mrs. Whitsell.

The first suit by the township seeking repayment of the wages was dismissed in circuit court, since the state had not yet been paid back the unauthorized wages, and the township could not show actual harm done to it.

Since then, the Department of Public Aid demanded reimbursements from the township, which were paid. Township

Attorney Irvin C. Slate Jr. has filed a request with the court asking for a trial date and requesting that Whitsell admit several aspects of the case, including the fact that the township paid his wife $9,597 in wages and fringe benefits to the Internal Revenue Service, Illinois Department of Revenue and municipal retirement for a total of $9,597.

It also requests Whitsell admit the Illinois Department of Public Aid denied his request to hire his wife as a general assistance worker. Whitsell has shown a document in which the state notified him he could continue to hire his wife, if he listed her salary as an "unapproved expense," until further notice. Township officials contend other letters to Whitsell followed that letter and informed him he could not hire her with state funds.

LOOT BIKE SHOP

A rear door was forced open to gain entry to Ben's Bicycle Shop, 1834 State St., and several items were stolen early this week. Taken were eight locks, a tool box and tools, six inner tubes, five pairs of reflectors, about $2 in pennies, a silver dollar and some keys. The burglary was the third recently at the shop.

Lions district governor to visit GC club

The Granite City Lions Club will host Illinois Lions District I-G Governor John D. Spurrer at its regular dinner meeting to be held at Charlie's Restaurant today at 6:30 p.m.

As the highest officer of District I-G, Gov. Spurrer is the official representative of Lions International to each of the district's 49 clubs.

The Granite City Lions visit will complete the governors' visit of the local Quad-City Lions clubs. Gov. Spurrer visited the Pontoon Beach Lions Club in September and the Madison Lions Club in October.

The district governor is required to make at least one official visit during his term to all 49 clubs in District I-G.

While making his official visit to the Granite City Lions, Spurrer will be brought up to date on club projects.

Granite City Lions President Jim Miller Jr. will preside at a special board of directors meeting to be held after the dinner meeting to review club activities.

Deputy district governor for Region 4, Clay Brethorn of the Edwardsville Lions, and Zone Chairman Donald D. Patrick (Region 4, Zone 3), of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club will accompany Gov. Spurrer to the Granite City meeting.

Spurrer has been a member of the Quincy Noon Lions Club for 15 years and has held many offices in his club. Before his election as district governor, he served the district as zone chairman and deputy district governor.

He has been a voting delegate at five Lions International conventions and has attended many state and district Lions meetings.

SOUTH'S FRED SCHULER HOLDS SECTIONAL TROPHY ALOFT AFTER WIN AND JEFF TINSLEY GOES AFTER BALL IN FOURTH QUARTER

South wins chance at state 'hat trick'

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — It was a familiar scene. Hundreds of high school soccer fans rushing out onto the field, one finger extended high in the air in a victory sign.

It should be familiar. For Tuesday here at the GCHS North soccer field, Granite City South won a chance at gaining its third consecutive state championship with a 1-0 victory over Quincy Notre Dame.

The victory over Notre Dame meant that South (22-4-1) will face Deerfield at 2 p.m. tomorrow (Friday) in the quarterfinals of the Illinois State Tournament at Illinois State University's Hancock Stadium in Bloomington-Normal.

Yardstick

	South	Q.M.D.
Shots on goal	11	10
Saves	5	2
Corner kicks	9	3
Fouls	9	16

But some of the credit should go to Granite City North, South's cross-town rival. Even though the Steelers were technically out of the tournament after losing to South 2-1 here Saturday, they defeated a Belleville West team which still had a mathematical chance at winning the sectional.

South won the game with enough injuries to fill a hospital emergency room. Star midfielder David Fernandez, the super-sophomore who helped the Warriors get as far as they had, is out for at least five weeks with a broken bone in his left wrist. David Mendoza is out with an eye injury. Jeff Tinsley is hobbled by a pulled leg muscle. Leading-scorer Fred Schuler is lame with an aggravated groin muscle pull and an injured leg. Jack Burnett has had knee problems all season. The list would have been Casey licking his chops.

But it was one of those hobbled players who sent South to the state tournament. Schuler, obviously not at full speed, chipped in a pass f rom Dan DeRousse at the 6:12 mark of the third quarter for the game's only goal out of a pile-up in front of the Notre Dame goal.

Originally, the goal was credited to South's Steve Spencer, but later it was discovered that it was indeed Schuler. "Fred's been coming through for us all season," said South Coach Gene Baker. "I really admire him even being out on the field, much less scoring the winning goal."

DeRousse started the play with a shot from about 25 feet out which went into a swarm of players in front of the goal. With Notre Dame goalie John Goosens not knowing from which end of the group of players the ball would eventually come, he committed himself to the left side of the net, leaving the right side empty for Schuler to hit.

Schuler gave much of the credit to DeRousse's original shot. "Danny hit a good ball," he said. "I just deflected it into the net."

Baker said the road to the state tournament this season was one he halfway expected not to be making this time around. "Early in the season, I really didn't know what to expect," he said. "We lost so many players from last year's team. But this year, it's been a lot of hard work from a lot of people. No one single player has been a standout all season long."

"Instead, it's been several players we have on the team. He knows where to be at what time and how to use his talent. Notre Dame was perhaps given the best shot at winning the championship going into the game. The Raiders had the only unbeaten record in tournament play (2-0) after wins over North (Thursday) and Belleville West (Saturday), and only needed a tie to go to state. But they were unable to mount any sort of sustained attack on the Warriors. Instead, most of the play during the game took place in the middle portion of the field.

Each team only had a couple of good chances," said Notre Dame Coach Al Kneppeler. "I thought the game could have gone either way. Unfortunately for us, it went South's way."

Perhaps Notre Dame's best chance at scoring came just moments after Schuler had scored. On a near breakaway, Notre Dame's Dave White boomed a shot on South goalie Andy Costello.

But Costello covered up on the shot after making a good save. Costello started in goal instead of Alex Paz, who had played in the net for the Warriors Saturday against North. "We are confident in both goalies," said Baker. "With the state tournament coming up, we didn't want to take the chance that if one got hurt and couldn't play, the other would be cold."

Costello and Paz split time in the South goal all season. Up to the time Schuler scored, both teams appeared to be playing the game with fear in their eyes. "I don't know if it was fear or just the fact that both teams were cautious," said Baker. "We really didn't want to get involved in an all-out scoring contest with them."

Notre Dame's Kneppeler said his team tried to slow down the flow of the game because of South's speedy backfield.

"Even though Schuler was banged-up, he's still a hell of a player," he said. "They have such quickness with Burnett that it's amazing. It seems like Burnett's been playing at South for 10 years."

Then Kneppeler said he thought South has got to be the favorite for the state championship. "Being the defending champs, they have to be considered the ones to beat," he said. "I realize they're hurting with injuries, but with the tradition going with them and the fact that most of the kids on the team have been in a pressure situation before at

Steelers look forward to '79

GRANITE CITY — The season ended here Tuesday for the Granite City North soccer Steelers. But Coach Bob Kehoe wasn't distraught or upset about it.

Even though North defeated Belleville West 2-1 in the third round of the North Sectional Tournament, the Steelers knew before the game that it would be their last of the season. The reason was that they had an 0-2 round-robin record going into the game.

But the game did have meaning to West. If the Maroons had won by a large score and then GCHS South had beaten Quincy Notre Dame in the second game (which they did), then West could have won the tourney and advanced to the state tournament.

But that was all for naught as the Steelers controlled the game throughout and finished the season with a 13-10-1 record.

"I'm as proud of these guys as I can be," said Kehoe. "They could have just folded out there today, since the game really didn't mean anything."

"But it DID mean something to them," he said. "There was some talk circulating around town that we might actually throw the game just so that South wouldn't have a chance to go to the state tournament."

"That's utterly ridiculous," said Kehoe. "There's no way in the world either myself OR my team would do that. We've got a little more pride than that."

"After all, we beat South once this year, and they beat us. We didn't have any bitterness about them going to state. In fact, other than ourselves, we'd rather see them win it than anybody."

Kehoe said that the entire North-South situation should be looked at closely by the community. "If some of the fans would stay out of it, the North-South battle wouldn't be quite so bitter," he said. "Sure, we want to go out and beat them as bad as anybody we play. They feel the same way about us, I'm sure."

"But off the field, many of these kids are friends. They've known each other for years and play on some of the same teams during the off-season."

North jumped out to a 1-0 lead at the 12:15 mark of the second quarter Tuesday against West when Mark Jones booted in a pass from Jeff DeBott.

Even though the Steelers controlled the flow of the game, they couldn't find the range on their shots and at the 1:02 mark of the third period, found themselves tied with the Maroons when Mark Snare scored off an assist from Chris Generous.

North got the winning goal at the 6:00 mark of the final period when Mike Robertson scored after getting a pass from DeMott.

"We tried to keep their front men away from the ball," said Kehoe. "We knew they had blazing speed and didn't want to get burned."

"I thought we moved the ball around quite well," he said. "I'm proud of them."

Then Kehoe said he's looking forward to next season. "We'll only be losing two seniors," he said. "We should have learned something the last two years and it should pay off next year. "At least, I hope it does."

Deerfield gets another shot

DEERFIELD, Ill. — Deerfield High School soccer coach Van Miller is well acquainted with the style of soccer played by Granite City South. And that's not such a bad idea, considering Deerfield and South will tangle tomorrow (Friday) in the quarterfinals of the IHSA State Tournament at Illinois State University at 2 p.m.

Miller's Warriors hosted South's Warriors back on Sept. 8 and South won 3-0. Things were quite a bit different for both teams then. "We were without our best player, Frank Speth," said Miller in a phone interview. "He's our center halfback and our leading scorer."

"He was out with a broken nose during the South game, but he's back now, even though he's still not 100 percent."

Miller pointed out that Speth is wearing a back brace because of an injury he received last season. "Someone gave him a pretty good knee in his back," said Miller. "It still bothers him some, so we have the brace on him."

In addition to the back brace, Speth has a calcium deposit around his right ankle which won't allow him to relax his foot to shoot. But it hasn't hampered him all that much. He leads the team in scoring with 14 goals. By the same token, South isn't exactly going into the tournament in the best of shape either. The Warriors may be without the services of all-everything sophomore David Fernandez, who sat out Tuesday's Quincy Notre Dame contest with a cast on his broken left wrist.

Fred Schuler is still hampered by an injured left thigh, Jeff Tinsley has an injured leg and David Mendoza is out with an injury to one of his eyes. Not exactly a tip-top shape ball club.

How will Deerfield attack South? "If we're up against a team with lesser skills than us," said Miller, "we can finesse them to death."

But against a team like South, which has far greater skills than we do, we have to go more to a physical game and try to use our speed."

Deerfield came out of one of the most hotly-contested sectionals in the state at Glenbrook North. The favored New Trier

An end and a beginning

GRANITE CITY — There was an end and a beginning of sorts here Tuesday. Both were the results of Granite City soccer victories, but for one victorious school, it meant only the end of the season. But for the other, it meant an advancement on to the Illinois State Tournament this weekend.

The victory that meant the end came first Tuesday as North defeated the surprise team of the tournament, Belleville West, 2-1. But the end of this season, as event-filled as it has been, won't mean the end of soccer at GCHS North. Quote the contrary, in fact. North will return all but two starters on its team next season.

The other win came about when Fred Schuler scored a goal in the third quarter off an assist from Dan DeRousse and the Warriors blanked strong Quincy Notre Dame 1-0. The win meant the right for South to advance to the state tournament and the chance to defend the state championship it has worn the past two seasons.

It may have been the end for one, but it was the beginning of something great for the other . . . at least people at GCHS South hope so.

In any case, both Granite City schools got together one last time and flexed their muscles for all of Illinois to see.

Appeal process on supplemental income

(Office of Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal)
Q. What can a person do if he disagrees with a decision that has been made on his Supplemental Security Income (SSI) claim?

A. Any SSI beneficiary who is dissatisfied with a decision about his or her payments has the right to ask for a reconsideration. The request for reconsideration must be made within 60 days from the date he or she receives the notice of the decision.

Q. Will Medicare pay for a wheelchair used in the home?
A. Medicare medical insurance can help pay for the rental or purchase of durable medical equipment, such as a wheelchair, that a doctor prescribes the use of in the home.

If rented, medical insurance helps pay the reasonable charges for as long as the equipment is medically necessary.

If purchased, medical insurance will usually make monthly payments until its share of the reasonable purchase price is paid or until the equipment is no longer medically necessary, whichever comes first.

Q. How can a person find out if Medicare paid for all the services which were received as a hospital inpatient?

A. Whenever a person receives covered services under Medicare hospital insurance, he gets a notice called "Medicare Hospital, Extended Care, and Home Health Benefits Record." The notice tells what Medicare paid for and how many days (or visits) were counted for the services received.

Q. If a person is receiving Supplemental Security Income, is it necessary to report admission to a hospital?
A. Yes, Social Security should be notified promptly if a person either enters or is released from a hospital, public institution, skilled nursing facility, nursing home or other institution.

The notice should give the name of the institution and the date the person entered or was released. It is important to report living arrangement changes, since it may affect the amount of payment.

Q. How does a person go about having Social Security checks deposited directly into a bank or savings institution?

A. Direct deposit can be arranged by having the institution complete a direct deposit form SP-1199. The people there will be glad to help in completion of the form.

New honor for Cauble

William O. Cauble, chief of the Procurement and Supply Division of the St. Louis District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, has been awarded the U.S. Department of Commerce certificate of appreciation for his contributions and support of a national program to help members of minority groups achieve equality in the American free enterprise system.

The award was made at a meeting of the eighth National Minority Business Opportunity Committee conference in Detroit.

Representatives of 40 cities attended the annual conference, which is designed to discuss how various agencies can better assist minority business enterprises.

Cauble, a resident of Granite City, has been instrumental in this work and, in 1977 due to his efforts, the St. Louis District was awarded the Howard B. Woods trophy from the Small Business Administration in recognition of achievements of the Corps District.

Cauble has been a member of the Minority Business Opportunity Committee for seven years.

Investigate report of molestation

Madison County sheriff's deputies are investigating a report by a 25-year-old nurse from Belleville that several men raped her in the Arlington Heights subdivision during the weekend.

The victim said she met four men at a Belleville lounge and agreed to accompany them to a party near Granite City. She said she fell asleep at the party and awoke to find three men molesting her.

She told deputies she told the men she wished to use the restroom and they allowed her. She then left the apartment and went to a neighboring apartment to call deputies.

Q. Will Medicare help pay for the services of a podiatrist?

A. Medical insurance can help pay for any covered services of a licensed podiatrist, except for routine foot care.

Routine foot care includes removal of warts, corns and calluses; hygienic care; and treatment for flat feet or other structural misalignments of the foot.

However, medical insurance can help pay for routine foot care if there is a medical condition affecting the lower limbs, such as severe diabetes, which requires that such care be performed by a podiatrist or doctor of medicine or osteopathy.

Q. If a person is not capable of handling his social security benefits, can these payments be sent to someone else?

A. If a person becomes unable to manage his or her own funds, arrangements can be made to send the person's social security checks to a representative payee.

The representative payee can be a relative or other person who "takes care of the beneficiary." Your Social Security office can provide additional information and assistance in completing an application.

Passenger in car arrested

Randy J. Phillips, 22, of 2334 rear Edwards St., was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest after he allegedly disturbed officers issuing tickets to three drivers at Nameoki Road and Jill Avenue at 2:20 a.m. Tuesday. Police alleged Phillips, a passenger in one of the cars stopped by police, got into the rear seat of a squad car while a motorist was being given a ticket, was ordered out of the car and complied, but called an officer a name.

He then allegedly returned to the squad car and asked for a ride to the police station. The officer refused. Police alleged he continued to use profane language and argued with police until they notified he was under arrest. He then pushed one officer and started fighting with police, it was alleged. Three officers subdued him and placed handcuffs on him, officers reported. Phillips was released after posting $85 cash bond.

Know-how can solve winter traction problems—Veizer

Granite City's Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer reviewed last year's driving records and came up with these comments about how local drivers handled winter driving problems:
"Vehicles got stuck . . . or skidded into other vehicles. And to make matters worse, stalled vehicles and accidents hampered snow removal and in some cases impeded police and emergency vehicles."
There's little excuse for these kinds of traffic problems, the chief said.
"We have ample information on how to maintain traction and how to cope with over-steering . . . over-breaking . . . and over-acceleration that cause most of our winter-slick road problems."

Chief Veizer contends that lack of "know-how" is the problem. In support of his contention, Veizer quoted winter driving tips from the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards that also have been endorsed by the International Association of Chiefs of Police.
"The first problem on snow or ice," Veizer noted, "is to get going — this relates to pulling traction."
"If you can't get started in snow, turn your front wheels back and forth to push snow away from your tires. If you have a manual transmission, shift to the highest gear; and with a gentle foot on the throttle, try to ease out without spinning your wheels."
"Once underway, don't be overconfident. The way to steer is steady and smooth, anticipating all maneuvers well in advance. Sudden turns or lanechanges will put you into a spin."

According to NSC test findings quoted by Veizer, pulling power is directly related to traction aids or the kind of tires you use.
Good tires with good treads are important all year around — but especially when pavements are slippery.
Conventional snow tires offer only a 28 percent improvement in pulling power when compared with regular highway tire treads on ice; but they provide half again as much traction as regular tires on loosely packed snow.
Radial tires may or may not improve traction on snow, depending on their tread configuration, i.e., a snow tread will perform as a snow tire, a regular tread will perform as a regular highway tire.
Studded snow tires (in areas where their use is permitted) are about three times better than regular tires on ice. Reinforced tire chains get you going four times better, than regular tires in loosely packed snow; seven times better on ice.
While pulling ability is certainly an important consideration, the ability to stop is of even more importance from a safety standpoint. How well you can do this depends, again on your tires or traction aids, Veizer said.
Reinforced tire chains are best for severe snow and ice conditions, cutting braking distance in half on glare ice. Studded snow tires, where they can be used, offer a 19 percent improvement on ice, the chief said.
Conventional snow tires offer no advantage over regular highway treads in stopping on ice, he added.
The chief had this final bit of know-how advice:
"Regardless of traction aids, pump your brakes to slow or stop to maintain steering control. And in no case can speeds on winter-slick roads begin to approach those on dry pavement, regardless of the traction aids you use."

Human rights still limited 141 years after Lovejoy

Elijah Parish Lovejoy would have plenty to do if he were around today. Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, said at a Lovejoy Week observance at the Alton YMCA this week.

"Anyone who properly appreciates the benefits of a free and spirited press could not fail to note that the subject of human rights — ranging from those of women and minorities in our society, to the treatment of those who exercise the right of free speech on the international scene — is very much in the spotlight these days," Dr. Shaw said.

However, the university president commented that all too often the matters most widely preached about are precisely those neglected in practice.

Keeping alive the dedication of Lovejoy to the inherent dignity of the human person — and the indispensable need for the widespread distribution of truth and free opinion in matters touching public interest — must remain a perennial, enduring priority," President Shaw said.

"Because he met his death defending a newspaper press against a mob that was venting its hatred against the truth, Lovejoy stands out as a martyr to one of the most basic of American Rights," he said. The university president added that the founding fathers recognized this in the first amendment to the Constitution.

Dr. Shaw said that the press is a means by which human language can be set down in permanent, visible form and that "freedom of the press is one right which must be guarded constantly and jealously."

"Named after an Old Testament prophet who certainly did not bring his people messages of comfort, Elijah Lovejoy symbolizes the prophet who is not appreciated in his own land," Dr. Shaw said.

The university president said the "Elijah of Alton" was speaking out on a Christian commitment on an issue that deeply divided men of good will. "It would be fair to say that those who stood on the wrong side were laboring in a horrible darkness."

"They desperately needed the kind of enlightenment that the prophet saw so clearly that he was willing to give up his life for it."

"Many think of prophets as those who see into the future. However, examined closely, we find that most prophets can see what is coming because they have a special understanding of the meaning of the present," Pres. Shaw said.

In Lovejoy's time, the crucial misunderstanding lay in the fact that many people felt the rights of the states and the rights to hold property superseded the most fundamental of human rights — that of self-possession and the determination of one's own destiny.

"Slavery was founded on the notion that one person could hold another person in chattel as an object of property. It was an error centuries in the making and devastating in its effect on our society. It is an error still all too rampant in the world today."

In addition to being a prophet, preacher and student, Lovejoy was best known as a journalist.

"Those who report on the events of the day weave the fabric of the public conscience. Those who comment on the meaning of these events — on the basis of their professional commitments and convictions — are asserting personal, individual rights with profound public meanings," the university president said.

"When Lovejoy faced the mob, he was not standing alone, nor was he the only person to die that day."

"The printing press which he stood so resolutely to defend was an extension of the light of his mind and the strength of his conscience. Lovejoy's press was not the last printing press in the community, nor was he the last of his special breed."

"In the 141 years since Elijah Lovejoy's death, spectacular changes have been made in the capacity for members of a society to disseminate their convictions and views."

"Many things have happened, but certainly among the most revolutionary are all the developments in communications technology," Dr. Shaw said.

"However, problems still beset the mass media. Recent rulings of the Supreme Court which could have a chilling effect on the shape of public decisions must be watched with care.

"Infringements of the effectiveness of the press ultimately lead to the debilitation of that personal courage which leads us to speak freely and openly."

"Freedom of speech and the press, given human frailty and the contentious nature of an open society, are subject to abuse."

"No crisis was ever resolved by having those concerned sleep through it. A tame press is a toothless watchdog without even the spunk to bark."

"Lovejoy saw clearly the basic issues in a complex and troubled time. While we lament that he had to go the last mile in defense of his convictions, with the comfort of hindsight we now know he was right when he refused to trim his sails before antagonistic winds," Dr. Shaw said.

"The Alton martyr realized the path he had chosen might lead to the whipping post, tar barrel, or even the stake."

"It led even farther than he imagined, but his death in the streets has guaranteed the immortality of his name."

Norman Davis dies at 49

Norman S. Davis, 49, associate professor of biological science at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, died unexpectedly Sunday at his home in Creve Coeur, Mo.

He joined the faculty of biological sciences in 1960 and was responsible for developing a curriculum in microbiology which subsequently made contributions to the education of students of biology, medical technology, nursing and sanitation technology.

Later, Prof. Davis was placed in charge of developing the medical technology program which, an SIUE spokesman said, has become one of the better known programs in Illinois. As coordinator to hospital schools of medical technology, he worked to provide career training opportunities for hundreds of SIUE students.

Before coming here, Davis had been senior microbiologist at Philco-Ford Corp., research project manager for Castel Co. and senior bacteriologist at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He obtained his B.S. and M.S. degrees at the University of Oklahoma and his Ph.D. in microbiology and biochemistry at the University of Texas.

According to his colleagues, Prof. Davis will be remembered as a teacher who set high standards for himself and for his students. "As an adviser to undergraduates, Dr. Davis's door was always open and he was dedicated to the student's success," a spokesman for the department of biological sciences said.

Funeral services were held Tuesday in the Bronx, New York, with burial at King Solomon Cemetery in New Jersey.

Industrial hygienist certification center

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is one of 10 regional examination centers selected by the American Board of Industrial Hygiene to sponsor its certification test for industrial hygienist and technician.

This falls testing at the local campus was supervised by Stephen K. Hall, associate professor of chemistry at SIUE, and a certified industrial hygienist. The test is the first given in the St. Louis area.

Industrial hygiene is a relatively new scientific discipline which deals with the regulation and compliance of occupational health and safety, specifically under the 1970 Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA).

On the job, the hygienist is concerned with a safe environment for workers, from the air and lighting inside a factory to the design and comfort of the typist's chair in the office. It is one of the few occupations where high-paying jobs outnumber the applicants at all certification levels, according to Hall.

At SIUE, applicants were tested at two certification levels with a one-day written examination for industrial hygienist and for industrial hygienist in training.

A two-day examination, including a comprehensive practice test, was given for the certified industrial hygienist. All three occupational levels work in government, industry and education to regulate and seek compliance with occupational health and safety standards. Specific information about qualifications for an industrial hygienist is available through Prof. Hall, president-elect of the Certified Industrial Hygienist Association in St. Louis.

Expect ruling in Madison property case

Plea for a restraining order to prevent the city of Madison from raising property at 321-327 Madison Ave., was taken under advisement last week by Associate Judge Philip J. Rarick in Circuit Court.

The proceeding was filed by Willie Radman who has opposed city efforts to condemn the property so that it could be torn down. Radman has said that he offered the property as a gift to the city for a park named for his parents.

Madison City Attorney Casper S. Nighossian said that if the judge rules in favor of the city, officials may then tear down the buildings.

Nighossian said there is no basis for the allegation by Radman that Mayor Mike Sasyk had made an oral agreement to purchase the property.

The attorney also charged that Radman is not the proper owner, but a tenant. The buildings are owned by Radman's sister, Nighossian said.

Nighossian also maintains that all issues presently before the court were previously decided in a case filed by the city against Ida Radman in May 1, 1977.

OLD FRIENDS MEET. William M. Bowling, center, director of the Illinois Department of Labor and former United Auto Worker (UAW) local president in Rock Island, Ill., visits last week with Willard Herzig Sr., right, president of UAW Local 1715 in Granite City.

CHOLESTEROL STUDY VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

The University of Minnesota is recruiting volunteers who have had one and only one heart attack in the past 36 months, to participate in a national cholesterol study. The National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute study is being conducted at three medical centers, including the university, to determine whether lowering blood cholesterol levels will help prevent heart attacks.

A university physician explained that the study needs one thousand men and women as participants. They should have had only one heart attack during the past 36 months and be 30 through 59 years of age.

For further information, persons may call the University of Minnesota Hyperlipidemia Study collect at 612-376-4494.

Students to design seals for Christmas

The fresh artwork of young children is again being sought, for use on the 1980 Christmas Seal. Children have been designing the seals for five years.

Students in kindergarten through grade three are being invited to participate in the 1980 Christmas Seal art project, which is being conducted in Illinois by lung associations and the Illinois Art Education Association.

One design will be chosen from each of the 50 states and U.S. territories. Because of time requirements for judging and actual printing, it is necessary to work well over a year in advance, explained J. Lawrence Keshner, president of the Lewis-Clark Lung Association (Madison-Jersey-Calhoun counties).

He urges all eligible students in public and parochial schools to enter the art project.

The youngster creating the design chosen for Illinois will receive a special plaque and the opportunity to make appearances on behalf of the Christmas Seal campaign. Kevin Fairbairn of Freeport designed the 1979 Illinois seal.

All entries must be one of two suggested themes: "I help decorate my house for Christmas or the holidays"; or, "My favorite Christmas or holiday ornament is..."

All entries must be on standard size 12x18 or 18x24-inch paper, on a horizontal format. Recommended media are: tempera paints, oil pastels (crayons) and non-toxic felt markers.

Deadline for entries is Jan. 2, 1979. Entries may be sent to: Lewis-Clark Lung Association, 523 Old St. Louis Road, Wood River 62095.

Lesche Literary hosts guest day

An early fall social event of interest in the area was the annual guest day and luncheon held last week at Central Christian Church by the Lesche Literary Club.

The group left the dining room for the chapel where Mrs. Peggy Stevens, program chairman, presented Mrs. E. J. Birk of Kirkwood, Mo., who gave an interesting lecture using slides of the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904.

The slides were made from pictures taken by her father. Mrs. Birk was assisted by Ed Ringneck and they related many stories of interest in conjunction with the fair from its dedication on April 30, 1904, until the universal exposition closed on Dec. 1, 1904.

Decorations created in fall colors for the table appointments were done by Mrs. Judy Padgett and Mrs. Mary Ann Cochran.

The 1967 Swedish film, directed by Bo Widerberg and starring Tommy Berggren and Pia Degermark, is a true story of 19th century Sweden. Elvira (Degermark), a circus lightrope walker, meets Sixten (Berggren), an army lieutenant.

They fall in love and he deserts his wife, two children and the army to be with her. At first they are sublimely happy traveling incognito in Sweden—until they are recognized. Then they must avoid a society that will not accept their love, and gradually their love is depleted.

BPW seeks nominees for Volunteer Woman award

The Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club is sponsoring a "Volunteer Woman of the Year" award to be presented at their public relations committee dinner meeting to be held on March 21.

Nominations are now being solicited from any organization for women, or agency, desiring to call attention to someone they know of who has been outstanding in her contributions to the community on a volunteer basis, club officers announced.

This award will give recognition to those who have assisted others, women in particular, in their advancement and has traditionally been given for outstanding guidance to youth and young career women. Service and volunteer efforts in the community are another criterion. Leadership efforts in church, local, state, or national programs in addition to encouragement given to women to enter into politics are considered to be a guideline for eligibility.

Nominees need only qualify in three of the above listed criteria. The deadline for accepting nominations will be on Jan. 15, 1979, and are to be submitted by mail to: BPW Public Relations Committee, 2465 Lynch Ave., Granite City, Ill. 62040.

Mrs. Lois Wetton, president, stressed that women in our community have done outstanding work and should be recognized for the time, talent, and energy they expend to serve others when they volunteer their help freely and unselfishly for the good of mankind.

Selective voting returns many able officials to state and district offices; Toffant and Johnson win county races

Illinoisans' growing inclination to look beyond party labels was demonstrated again Tuesday. Voters showed they are ready, willing and able to choose between candidates on the basis of their perception of the individuals, the issues and the competing "platforms."

Aided by the awesome vote-attracting ability of Belleville's Alan J. Dixon, who gained re-election with ease, Democrats captured three statewide offices, including Roland W. Burris for comptroller and Jerome A. Cosentino for state treasurer.

Another Belleville resident, Lieutenant Governor David C. O'Neal, also won again, as the running-mate of Governor James R. Thompson. They are Republicans, as are Attorney General William J. Scott, a clear winner Tuesday, and U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy, who rallied to overcome what had appeared to be a potential loss. The senator took negative polls seriously, promised that he had "gotten the message" to fight governmental over-spending and over-regulation, and earned voters' confidence for a third six-year term.

Another senator representing this community, State Senator Sam M. Vadala, won by a decisive margin. And still another Democratic victory in the 56th Illinois Legislative District was State Representative Jim McPike, who will return to the General Assembly along with Republican State Rep. Everett G. Steele, one of the most popular vote-getters on this week's ballot. As this was being written, data from five Alton area precincts had been sealed away and was awaiting canvassing, leaving it uncertain whether the third local Illinois House seat had gone to Sam W. Wolf or Rep. Joe Lucio.

In the 23rd Congressional District, veteran Democratic Congressman Melvin Price easily captured an 18th consecutive

Technology transfers aid Red war power

By ANTHONY HARRIGAN
A major, bipartisan effort to halt the sale or transfer of American technology to Communist nations has been launched in Congress. It's an effort that is long overdue.

U.S. Rep. Clarence Miller of Ohio has introduced a bill—HR 1400—to ban the sale of any goods or technology that has potential military, law enforcement, or intelligence-gathering value to the Soviets and other Communist states.

Congressman Miller and the co-sponsors of HR 1400 deserve the thanks of the American people for introducing this legislation.

Since the beginning of the so-called "detente" era, the Soviets have been acquiring sophisticated American technology which has enhanced their war-making capabilities.

In 1972, the State Department approved for export to the

Recalls prediction of a Polish pope

To the Editor:
Several years ago, I served the citizens of Madison County as Secretary of State license investigator. My immediate supervisor was Lieutenant Stanley J. Krakowicki of Madison.

On one particular date, I met Lt. Krakowicki at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant for breakfast.

As he paid for that meal, I desired to reciprocate. So I suggested that he accompany me to Calhoun County and—

"perhaps in mine."

It was my honor to be palbearer for Lt. S. J. Krakowicki, licensee.

A prophecy, perhaps made in jest to perhaps a jestful in jest, has been fulfilled. I'm proud to have a Polish grandmother and to have served under a great Polish law enforcement officer, and to have a Polish pope.

Against grouping of bond projects

To the Editor:
I have been following the controversy concerning the bond proposal for Wilson Park.

I believe that many questions which have been left unanswered by the proponents of this bond proposal.

1. For one, would like to know:

1. Why has this bond proposal been offered as a package deal?

2. Why are we not allowed to vote on an alternative proposal i.e. tennis courts and swimming pool without the "wave machine"?

3. Why is this election being held in December instead of the fall or the spring?

4. We have been told the cost of the "package deal." What is the cost of the "wave machine"? How much more money is being added to this proposal because of the "wave machine"?

5. Why is the park board so intent on taking one of the most beautiful parks in this country and reducing it to another concrete jungle?

6. Why are we observing a wave machine in operation? This wave machine was not in a residential area and most certainly was not in the middle of a beautiful park, but it was still a blight on the environment and an insult to the eye.

MARY MARGARET NONN

subject for U.S. researchers.

The powers-that-be apparently have decided that the assistance to the Chinese Communists, via NATO partners of the United States, is to be encouraged.

Congress should insist that U.S. technology or equipment isn't transferred to Peking by any roundabout route.

In the case of sales to the Soviet Union, it's unfortunately true that a few companies are willing to risk U.S. security in order to make a profitable deal.

In the words of Gen. Miller, "We're selling the Soviets the rope that some day they would like to hang us with."

The bill to ban technology transfers to Communist countries is necessary in order to deny the Soviets an opportunity to hold a "nekkie party" for the United States.

Election awards—or, how Mae West looks at it

Alton Telegraph—Most of us no longer vote for anyone. A Gallup poll two years ago said 57 percent of the American voting public goes into the voting booth against a particular candidate.

With this thought in mind, it is time to hand out the usual election campaign awards.

SEITH AND DESIST AWARD: To Alex Seith, Democratic contender for the U.S. Senate, who waged the biggest mudslinging campaign in recent Illinois history against Republican incumbent Charles Percy.

WHEN YOU LIE WITH DOGS, YOU GET UP WITH FLEAS AWARD: To Percy, forced into the same brand of name calling because Seith lied in the polls.

YES, VIRGINIA, THERE IS

EQUALITY AWARD: To Gladys Levis, Republican challenger for the State Senate seat in the 56th District. Mrs. Levis proved she, as a woman, can be an equal to Democratic incumbent Sam M. Vadala. She is the first opponent Sam faced who is as short as he is.

JACOB'S COAT OF MANY COLORS AWARD: To State Rep. Jim McPike of Alton, who ran for office two years ago as an "independent" Democrat challenging the county party and this year carried the county party banner trying to ward off his adversary, Democrat challenger the party.

IF AT FIRST YOU DON'T SUCCEED, TRY AGAIN AWARD: To Joe Lucio, incumbent Democratic state representative who lost the primary and ran as an independent in the general election.

figure out just what his proposed tax cut will cost. Seith said, "I've been state comptroller for the past two years, is supposed to keep track of such things."

THIS IS THE WAY TO WIN VOTES AWARD: To Claude DeShleria, candidate for sheriff in Jersey County, who came close to being arrested by his opponent, sheriff Frank Vocum, when a warrant was issued for his arrest. DeShleria settled the matter before it was, however.

BEST FREE POLITICAL AWARD: To Alan Dixon, incumbent secretary of state, who has his name on three million new driver's licenses and six million license plate applications this year just before election.

CALLING THE KETTLE BLACK AWARD: To

Beware the confidence-inspiring 'con artists'

By WILLIAM H. WEBSTER
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation

One of the most despicable thieves prowling our streets today is the confidence swindler—a scoundrel who often preys on elderly citizens and the bank—and then get another door with all your money.

Of course, he does not work for the bank. He makes his living cheating people.

The Pigeon Drop is usually worked by two or more con women. The first swindler pretends to find a money-filled envelope lying near your feet on the street.

The swindler's partner walks up and demands that the finder split the large sum of money three ways. It is suggested that the three of you put up five hundred or a thousand dollars in "good faith" money.

You are selected to hold all the money for 30 days. If no one claims the lost money, the three of you will meet again in the same spot and split the find.

You, of course, are to hand

'Don't spend the tax cuts yet'

By RICHARD L. LESHER
President
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

Don't cash out and start spending the money you're supposed to gain from the tax "cut" Congress has passed.

When all things are considered—as all things must be—you're likely to wind up farther behind than ever.

Suppose, for example, that you are a single person earning $20,000 a year. According to the sample table prepared by the congressional Joint Committee on Taxation, your federal income tax should be $177 for 1979 than it was for 1978.

So far, so good. But the right hand giveth while the left taketh away.

effects of inflation. But then you're making more money for tax purposes and paying more tax on it.

The numbers vary with individual circumstances and different wage levels.

But as Senator Baker (R-Tenn.) has pointed out, every family making more than $8,000 next year is likely to face a net tax increase.

To put things in the proper perspective, you need to know that the total tax relief passed is about half the size of the 1975 tax reduction and less than one-third the size of that for 1963.

By way of faint praise, I can find two good things to say about the tax bill that's better bill than was in prospect at the start of the year, and a little better than the one the House passed last summer.

Second, it does recognize the need to stimulate business investment, which would increase employment and production and reduce inflation.

The business tax relief is, however, short by a country mile, just like that offered to individuals.

Business corporate tax relief was very small, consisting mainly of a two-percentage-point reduction in the corporate rate, plus a small improvement in the investment credit.

The tax relief enacted to encourage business investment amounts to 0.16 percent of our Gross National Product, or $3.7 billion.

Paperwork reduced, this new document says

When we cut overhead costs, we also cut into the causes of inflation," McIntyre advised the president.

The report shows that from Jan. 31, 1977, to last June 30, the number of recurring reports the federal government requires of the private sector dropped by 400 to 4,926.

An estimated time spent by business, non-profit organizations, local governments and individuals in completing federal reports fell 109.4 million hours to a total of 779.1 million.

McIntyre's report listed some examples of where agencies have reduced paperwork burdens in accordance with President Carter's directive:—The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare simplified the tripartite application that must be used by educational institutions which apply for financial aid under various programs of the Office of Education.

The results of this simplification resulted in a reduction of 100,000 reporting hours; this year it is expected that an additional reduction of 14,000 reporting hours will be achieved.

—The Department of Agriculture simplified the process for applying for a loan to the Farmers Home me confident that we can achieve a more efficient and less burdensome federal government through serious and continuous efforts to strike at the core causes of excessive paperwork."

President Carter has made the battle against paperwork a major effort of this administration.

He said that he believes his "new form" is the greatest degree, was an expression of the public's frustration of how government does its business and of their desire to see changes for the better."

BOY, 15, BEATEN

David Diak, 15, of 3023 Iowa St., suffered a broken jaw when he was assaulted behind McDonald's Restaurant, 1515 Johnson Road, during the weekend. Police were told a tan Ford Mustang with three youths in it stopped near Diak and a youth with long blond hair got out and beat him. Diak required surgery at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Venice emphasis on reading, math, science, social studies, attendance

A public hearing to discuss the submission of Title VII proposals for 1979-80 for the Venice School District will be held Monday, Nov. 13, at 7 p.m. in the Venice School Library.

Mrs. Althea Cross is director of Title VII Project MICRO (mathematics, interpersonal relations and communication and reading opportunities).

The Title VII Amendment which is a part of the Emergency School Aid Act provides funds for the following three broad purposes:

(1) To meet the special needs incident to the elimination of minority group segregation and discrimination among students and faculty in elementary and secondary schools.

(2) To encourage the voluntary elimination, reduction or prevention of minority group isolation in elementary and secondary schools with substantial proportions of minority group students; and (3) to aid children in overcoming the disadvantages of minority group isolation.

A districtwide advisory council has been formed and has aided in implementation of the basic and pilot projects for the current school year.

Officers are Mrs. Charlotte Dilday, chairman, Mrs. Solastine Johnson, assistant chairman, and Miss Linda Marcus, secretary.

Members of the advisory committee are involved in developing and reviewing the proposals for 1979-80 prior to submission to the U.S. Office of Education by Dec. 4 at 4 p.m.

As a result of the needs assessment, components of the basic proposal for 1979-80 will center around improvement in reading and mathematics achievement for target students, in-service training for staff in human relations, and improved attendance for target students.

The components of the pilot program will demonstrate a creative and innovative approach to career education and to work study skills related to science and social studies for target students.

"Mad As A Hatter!"

Way back when grocers were dipping sugar and crackers out of open barrels, the above expression was coined. It came from the fact that hat makers used a lot of mercury which caused them to twitch violently and people concluded that they were mad.

Modern food merchandising is a far cry from the open barrel days.

Regardless of improvements and facilities, our best laid plans often go awry, and while it might not be perceptible to the naked eye... we do our share of twitching...

In case your relationship with our personnel has suffered, we would appreciate a note telling us about it. We can't afford to lose any customers, as tough as competition is now. You will find "suggestion envelopes" in a rack in our stores. They are addressed to the president of Tri-City Grocery Company.
